This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

1700 to 1835. Aghada, Corkbeg, Inch, Rostellan, and Titeskin, were held as the union of Aghada, in commendam with the Bishoprick of Cloyne, until the death of Bishop Brinkley, on 14th September, 1835.

The following account of the manner in which Aghada was granted to the Bishops of Cloyne, is taken from the manuscripts of Bishop Bennet :—

"The revenues of the bishoprick appear to have been at a very low ebb in 1698, soon after the succession of Bp. Pooley to the see. The long lease of sixty years awarded by Bramhall to the Fitzgerald family was not yet expired; and, indeed, the time of its expiring was a subject of dread rather than hope, as bringing the certainty of a suit at law along with it. Lord Inchiquin claimed to hold the best farms on that estate, not under that lease, but in his own right, as heir to the Fitzgeralds. The fine estate of Kilmaclenin, with those of Inchiquin, Kilvagh, and Chor Abbey, were entirely lost, and that of Ballybane, tho' the right of the see to it had been often allowed, was in a hopeless state. The markets, mill, and other rights of the manor were a daily subject of dispute. And, to complete the whole, all hopes of Donoghmore were just extinguished by the determination of the Commissioners against the claim of the church. The whole estate of the bishoprick, both spiritual and temporal, produced no more than £500 per an.; and with this expensive law suits were to be maintained against Lord Inchiquin, Sir St. John Broderick, Colonel Corker, of Ballymaloe, and others, some of which suits had been running on for near thirty years.

"Under these circumstances Bishop Pooley, who was always attentive to the interests of his see, was encouraged to petition the Earl of Rochester, then Lord Lieutenant, stating that Cloyne was the worst endowed of all the Irish Bishopricks, so that before 1641, the Wardenship of Youghal had been added to it to make up for its deficiency of revenue; that since that period the see had been deprived of some very considerable estates; that in parallel cases in the English Church it was usual to permit a Bishop to hold in commendam some other fit ecclesiastical preferment; and that the union of Aghada which was adjoining and convenient to the Bishop's place of residence, being now vacant by the death of Mr. John Mascall, and in the sole gift of the Bishop himself, he humbly prayed his Majesty to allow the said union of Aghada to be held in commendam with the bishoprick of Cloyne, as it might seem good to his royal pleasure. This petition of the Bishop was granted, and he became Rector of the union of Aghada, consisting of the rectories and vicarages of Aghada, Corkbeg, Rostillan, Titeskin, and Inch, which has now gone with the see for upwards of 100 years.

"By the judicious improvement of this fortunate opportunity, Bp. Pooley laid the foundation of an increasing revenue to the Bishops of Cloyne, which has made more than amends for all the estates they have lost. The commodious situation of the union, which includes almost the whole peninsula between Cloyne and the sea, and the rise from the increase of tillage in all the livings in the south of Ireland, has made it productive beyond any idea that could have been formed at the time. In 1700, when first held with the see, it was worth about £400 per annum; in the time of Bp. Agar, 1767, it rose to £800; in 1793 Bp. Woodward had increased it to £1,100; Bp. Bennet, in 1801, made of it full £2,000; and ten or twelve years after it was valued by the Proctor at £3,400."

1710. 9th Anne, chapter 12, sec. 7. A new parish church is to be built in a more convenient place, at Aghada, in Cloyne. [Acts of Parliament.]

1774. The Bishop holds also in commendam the union of Aghadda, value £600 per an., consisting of the following parishes, viz., the rec. and vic. of Corkbeg, the rec. and vic. of Aghadda, the rec. and vic. of Inch, otherwise Ninch; the rec. and vic. of Rostillian, and the rec. and vic. of Titeskin. Aghadda Church is in repair; the other churches are in ruins. Glebe, at Corkbeg, 21A. 1R. 37P. En.; at Aghadda, 20A. 1R. 29P. En.; at Inch, 10R. 0R. 26P. En.; and at Titeskin, 61A. 1R. 25P. The Rect. of Rostillian was formerly part of the possessions of the preceptory of Mourne, and is chargeable with 15*s.* per an. crown rent. The vic. of Corkbeg is taxed in the King's books £2 sterl.; the vic. of Aghadda, £1 10*s.* sterl.; the rect. of Inch, by the name of Inishcullen, £1 sterl.; the vic. of Rostillian, £1 10*s.* sterl.; the rect. of Titeskin, by the name of Siteskin, £1 6*s.* 8*d.*; and the vic., 13*s.* 4*d.* Before these parishes were granted to the bishoprick, Corkbeg paid proxies 10*s.* 8*d.*; Aghadda, 7*s.*; Inch, 8*s.*; Rostillian, 12*s.*; Titeskin, 12*s.* Incumbent, the Rt. Rev. Charles Agar, LL.D., Lord Bishop of Cloyne. Curate, John Lawless, A.M. [Hingston.]

1779. May 1. One acre of glebe is granted to Aghadda parochial school. [D.R.]

1782. In March, 1794, £120 (12 years arrears of this annuity) were paid by the executor, Mr. Wallis Adams, of Kilbre. Besides the ten pounds, nine pounds annual interest on savings were subsequently distributed each year to ten instead of five poor persons near the estate, who were generally chosen by the owners of the property.

1785. The union contains 58 Protestants. [Vincent, Curate.]

1805. The union contains 39 Protestant families. [Abp. Brod.]

1807. Aghadda Union. One church. One Curate, at £75. No glebe-house. The Curate, Rev. R. Kirchoffer, is also R. V. Ballyvourney. [Par. Rep.]

"In 1813, some business relative to this living of Aghada happening to come before the Privy Council, the Crown Officers, misled by the circumstance of its having been so long held with the bishoprick, and regularly granted to the new bishop at every vacancy, were much inclined to consider it as a Crown living. But on my copying out the parts of Bp. Pooley's memorial to Lord Rochester as above quoted, and referring to the Privy Council Books for the original, they immediately gave up the question. Such is the advantage of having a book of this sort to apply to upon occasion." [Bishop Bennett.]

Atkin Hayman (fifth son of Samuel Hayman, esq., of The College, Youghal, by Elisabeth, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Richard Paradise, esq., a French Protestant refugee) was born at Youghal, on 11th June, 1714, and entered T.C.D. as a Pensioner on 6th July, 1733, and graduated in 1738.

He was ordained Deacon, on 21st December, 1740, and Priest, on 15th March, 1741, by Bishop Berkeley, at Cloyne. On 22nd December, 1741, he was licensed to the curacy of Middleton, which he held until 1753. From 1753 to 1764, he was Curate of Youghal. In 1754 he was appointed Chaplain to the Earl of Hillsborough. From 1759 to 1764, he was R. V. Carrigrohanebeg, and from 1764 to his death, on 13th April, 1793, was V. Ballyclogh and Castlemagner.

He married, firstly, in June, 1742, his cousin, Elisabeth, youngest dau. of Rev. Walter Atkin (Treasurer of Cloyne, q. v.); and by her (who was buried in the Atkin family vault, at Middleton, on 30th January, 1756,) had issue five sons and three daughters. Three of the sons died infants, and one (the third eldest, Walter Atkins Hayman) died without legitimate issue. All the daughters died unmarried. Samuel, his fourth son, succeeded to the family inheritance, much diminished by the alienation of the greater part thereof to the illegitimate issue of his brother Walter. Samuel was born in 1753, and in 1779 took out a diploma at Edinburgh as a Physician. He married, in 1782, Melian, dau. and co-heiress of Matthew Jones, esq., Collector, of Youghal, and by her had issue, inter alios, a son, Matthew Hayman, heir to his father, who was born in 1789, and married, in 1816, Helen, second dau. of Arundel Hill, esq., of Doneraile. By this marriage Matthew Hayman had issue, inter alios, an eldest son, Samuel Hayman, now Rector of Ardnegihy, Cork, q. v.

1757, married a second wife, Elisabeth, dau. of Frank Wilson, esq., of Youghal, but had by her, who was buried in Youghal, on 6th Oct., 1776, no issue.

The family of Hayman, Heyman, or Aymon (as the name is spelled in the well-known early French romance—"Histoire des quatre fils Aymons, tres-Nobles et tres-vaillans Chevaliers") is of undoubted antiquity. Sir B. Burke, in his Landed Gentry (article HAYMAN, of YOUGHAL) gives the family a Norman origin, and describes their genealogical roll as embracing a period of more than nine centuries. He traces them downwards, generation after generation, from the year 931 to the present time. Deeds, wills, and family letters, from the reign of Charles I., are in the muniment chest of Rev. Samuel Hayman, the representative of the Irish branch, who is sixth in descent from George Heyman, or Hayman, of Minehead, Somersetshire, who migrated to Ireland in 1629. George Heyman was grandson of Robert or Roger Heyman, who, to avoid religious persecution in Queen Mary's reign, fled from Kent, and found refuge in the west of England, where numerous lines, owing their origin to him, may yet be found. A baronetcy of the creation, 12th August, 1641, existed in the parent house, in Kent, until 20th Nov., 1808, when the Rev. SIR HENRY PIX HEYMAN, the fifth baronet, expired without issue male. (Vide Burke's Extinct Baronetcies, article HEYMAN of SOMERFIELD)

The Rev. Atkin Hayman left numerous sermons in manuscript, and an account of the Diocese of Cloyne in 1762, which are in the possession of Rev. Samuel Hayman, of Ardnegihy.

BALLYHAY.

1224. Florence, Archidiaconus Belaghatensis, was made Bishop of Cloyne on 25th August, 1224. [Prynne's Records.]

1250 to 1320. Between these years five Incumbents held the Church of Ballyhay, as may be seen by the extract which follows from the Pipe Roll of Cloyne. They were Master Henry (son of John Cogan), who died, and was succeeded by John (son of John Cogan). He resigned in favour of Philip Sarsfield, who died soon afterwards. Then Walter Cogan held it until Magister William Cogan came from "the schools" from England, and was inducted by the Bishop. At this time the church was made prebendal, the vicarage with XL. shillings being restored "ad Clone."

Christopher Vowell, and daughter to Thomas Moore, of Ahern, esq., dyed the 5th of April, 1683, anno ætats suæ 46."

Christopher Vowell, second son of Richard Vowell, and grandson of David Vowell, of Rathcornan (vide Rev. William Vowell, V. Aghern), was born at Castlelyons, county Cork, in 1640, and was educated in Cork by Mr. Verling. He entered T.C.D. on 3rd Oct. 1658, and was a Scholar and A.B. in 1660.

"In this town, the first Earl of Orrery endowed a celebrated free school, who, although he had great offices and a plentiful estate, yet his soul seemed much larger than his fortune. The master has an house and £40 per an. salary.

"The late Earl of Orrery gave 15 acres of land, worth £11 per an., for the encouragement of a charter working school, near this town, erected for the reception of 40 children. The building cost £350; it was opened on the 18th of April, 1748, and 20 children, 10 of each sex, admitted, being completely clothed. On the following Sunday a sermon was preached on the occasion, by the Rev. Dean Bruce, who gave the children bibles and other useful books, and a subscription to the school. The house properly supplied with necessaries; the kitchen and potato gardens are well planted; the land enclosed with quickset hedges, and ornamented with trees.

"In this town is a decent parish church, erected by the first Lord Orrery." [Smith's Cork, vol. i., p. 304.]

Jonathan Bruce was descended from Sir Andrew Bruce, of Earlshall, in Scotland (vide Robertson's Baronage of Scotland), who, by his wife Helen, dau. of Patrick, 7th Lord Grey, had issue inter alios a second son, Alexander Bruce. This Alexander was a steady loyalist, and was taken prisoner by the Parliamentarians at the battle of Worcester, in 1651. He came to Ireland, and settled in Bandon, county Cork, in 1654. He married Mary, dau. of Captain Brookes, of the "Swallow" Sloop of War, and niece of Jonathan Saul, esq. By her he had issue a son, Saul Bruce, esq., who was twice Provost of Bandon. Saul married Mary, dau. of George Crofts, esq., of Churchtown, county Cork, and by her had five sons and two daughters, ll of whom died without issue, except the second son, Jonathan, who was P. Ballyhay.

Jonathan (the last named) was born in county Cork, in 1681, and when seventeen years old, was entered a Pensioner of T.C.D. on 19th January, 1698; and became a Scholar in 1702, and graduated subsequently A.M. and D.D.

He was ordained Deacon on 23rd Sept., 1705, and Priest on 29th Oct., 1710, both at Cloyne.

From 1708 to 1729 he was Curate of Kilbolane. From 1709 to 1758 he was R. Aglishdrinagh, and V. Shandrum and Rathgogan. From 1710 to 1736, P. Cooline. On 11th Sept., 1714, he was licensed to the curacy of Ballyhay and Imphric. From 1719 to 1758 he was P. Ballyhay and R. V. Ardskeagh. From 1721 to 1758 he was R. Shandrum, and from 1724 to his death, at Charleville, on 27th August, 1758, was Dean of Kilfenora.

He married in 1709 [M.L. Cloyne, 20th April] Mary, dau. of Rev. Lewis Prythergh, P. Effin, Limerick, and by her had issue eight sons and three daughters, Mary, wife of Samuel Hobson, esq., of Youghal; Sarah, wife of Reuben Roberts, esq., of Charleville; and Catherine, Mrs. de la Hoyde.

The Dean's eldest son, Lewis, was born at Charleville, in 1710, and in 1725, when sixteen years old, entered T.C.D. He was afterwards D.D. He was ordained Priest on 23rd Sept., 1734, at Cloyne, for the curacy of Rathgogan; was Chaplain in ordinary to His Majesty for Somerset House, and was V. Rainham, county Essex, from 1759 to 1779. He married, in 1738, Elisabeth Roberts, of Charleville, [Cloyne, M.B.,] by whom he had issue a daughter, Mary-Elisabeth, who was privately baptised in 1739. [Charleville parish register.] He appears to have had no other issue, and his daughter probably died an infant. In his will (dated 22nd Oct., 1778, with a codicil of 18th Feb., 1779,) Dr. Lewis Bruce bequeathes £50 to the poor of Charleville parish, the interest thereof to be laid out in the like manner as the interest of the £50 bequeathed by his father's will, "in purchasing of bread for the poor, to be distributed on the 3rd Sunday in every month, by the Minister and churchwardens for the time being, in the open church, next after divine service, the persons so to be relieved to be nominated by my heirs, and for want of such nomination, by the said Minister and churchwardens." He also bequeathed "to the Vicar, churchwardens, and overseers of the poor of the parish of Raynham, county Essex, £50, the interest to be toward the support and maintenance of a reading-master, to teach the poor children of said parish to read, and to instruct them in their catechism." He also bequeathed to twenty of the oldest and poorest inhabitants of Raynham 10*s.* 6*d.* apiece.

He left to WILLS, EARL OF HILLSBOROGH, "a picture, by Casteels, of tame fowl, and two pictures, by Teniers;" and to VISCOUNT FAIRFORD, son of the EARL OF HILLSBOROGH, "two small fruit pieces."

He left also to Francis Bernard, of Basinborough Hall, his "onyx ring of Ganymede and the eagle, brought by the late LORD HOLLAND from Herculaneum." And to the Hon. Thomas Fitzmaurice he left his "silk partridge net."

Dr. Lewis Bruce mentions in his will several relations; among others, "Miss Elisabeth Catherine Bruce, sister to Robert George Bruce, chief engineer at the Island of St. Dominique;" and Ismena and Arabella, daughters of the late Mr. David Bruce, of the Corn-market, Dublin.

The Dean's third son, Charles, died unm. His fourth son, David, was probably the same person mentioned in Dr. Lewis Bruce's will as of the Corn-market, Dublin.

George, the fifth son of the Dean, was a counsellor-at-law, and resided at Cork. He married Mary, eldest dau. of Thomas Evans, esq., of Miltown Castle. (Vide Burke's L. G. Evans, of Ashhill Towers.) He died in 1788, leaving numerous issue. His eldest son, Rev. Jonathan Bruce, was ordained Deacon, on 11th May, 1777, and Priest, on 20th Dec., 1778, both at Cork. From 1785 to 1788 he was Curate of Marmullane, Cork, and in 1790 was Curate of Kilbolane. He (Rev. Jonathan) inherited from his uncle, Dr. Lewis Bruce, the impropriate tithes of Kilbolane, "182 volumes of classics, bound in Turkey," and other property. He married, first, Miss Augusta Archdall, of county Fermanagh, who died Sp. He married, secondly, his cousin Mary, daughter of George Evans, esq., and by her had issue—1. George (representative of this branch of the Bruce family), born 1782, married Frances, second dau. of Major Greene, of Lota, and has issue. 2. Eyre, Major-General, H.E.I.C., married Miss M'Auley, and has issue. 3. Jonathan, married Ann, dau. of Robert Maxwell, esq., and has issue. 4. Elisabeth, wife of Charles Conyers, esq., of Castletown Conyers. 5. Mary, wife of Eyre Massy, esq., of Glenville.

The second son of George, the Dean's fifth son, was George-Evans Bruce, High-Sheriff of county Limerick. He inherited the estates which his uncle, Dr. Lewis Bruce, acquired by marriage, in Hertfordshire, Finchley, and Middlesex, and he sold them, having first levied fines, and suffered recovery, &c., to enable him to do so. He married Miss Bayley, niece of Lord Sandwich, and left no issue.

The other sons of Dean Bruce were Walter, John, and James, who all died Sp.

A high testimony is borne to his exemplary character, by the fact, that in 1662 the Convocation subscribed liberally for the support of his destitute widow and children. [MS. Lambeth. 684.]

Robert Naylor, A.M. (son of Robert Naylor, esq., of Canterbury, county Kent, and brother of Joan Naylor, mother of Richard, the first Earl of Cork), was ordained Deacon on 25th Sept., 1625, and Priest on 18th Dec., 1625, both by John Boyle, Bp. of Cork, Cloyne, and Ross.

In 1628 he became P. Brigowne; in 1629, Dean of Lismore, P. Dysert and Kilmoleran, Lismore; and in 1639, Dean of Limerick. He was, in 1640, a member of Convocation.

He married, in May, 1630, Anne Maunsell, and had issue inter alios a daughter, Margaret, who married on 21st March, 1659, John Drew, esq., of Kilwinny, county Waterford, and of Menus, county Kerry, ancestor of the county Waterford and Youghal lines of that family.

1661 and 1662. Mr. Devereux Spratt appears as P. Brigowne, R. Kilgulane, and V. Marshalstown. [V.B.] In 1661, Mr. D. Spratt, P. Brigowne, is admonished to exhibit his letters of orders within five months. [Ib.] "E. Villæ Marshalli: Rectoria spectat ad St. Katherine Waterford. Vicarius, Mr. Spratt, per titulos." [Ib.]

Devereux Spratt, born 1st May, 1620, was the son of the Rev. Thomas Spratt, of Stratton, on the Vosse, county Somerset, by his wife, Elisabeth, dau. of Rev. Robert Cooke, Minister of the Island of ——? Kerry.

Devereux was the first of his family who came to Ireland. He held the parishes of Membury and Withecombe, Exon, in Devonshire. In 1640 he came to Ireland, and was, from 1641 to 1664, Chancellor of Ardfert; and from 1661 to 1663, P. Brigowne. He was also Rector of Tipperary and Galbally, and from 1676 to 1685 was P. Lattin, Emly. He was also R. Kilgobbin, and V. Stradbally, Ardfert, and Aghadoe. In the rebellion of 1641 he lost property to the amount of £237, and the income of his church livings, worth £100 per an. Vide the MSS. T.C.D. F. 2. 21.

He died in 1685.

He married, in 1660, Palgrave Cubitt, of Tipperary; and had issue by her (besides a daughter, Margaret, wife of John Love, esq., of Castlesaffron, county Cork) several sons, all of whom died childless, except Devereux, who was born at the family residence, Torbay, near Mitchelstown, on 30th May, 1670, and who married, in 1698, Martha Bond, of Glanore, and had by her inter alios two sons, William, V. Castlelyons, q. v., and Harmer.

Harmer Spratt was of Lisnagourneen, near Kildorrery, and married, in 1742, Catherine Nash of Farrihy, and had issue two sons, James and Harmer, and a daughter, Margaret. Of these, Harmer, the second son, alone married. He was of Ballybeg, and married, in 1778, Martha or Mary Foot, of Springfort, Buttevant. By her he had two sons, Harmer (died unm.), and Thomas-Edward; and two daughters, who died unm. The second son, Thomas-Edward, by his wife Barbara, dau. of Lieut.-Col. Foott, of Milfort, had issue (besides a second son, Richard, who married his cousin, Eliza-Louisa, dau. of Henry Baldwin Foott, esq., of Carrigacunna Castle) an eldest son, HARMER DEVEREUX SPRATT, esq., now of Pencil Hill, near Mallow, who married Eliza-Louisa, dau. of the late Edward Townsend Warren, esq., by Penelope, dau. of the late Rev. E. M. Carleton, R. V. Carrigrohanebeg, q. v.

The estates of Ballinaburna and Ballinrush, in the county of Wexford, and Torbehy, or Torbay, and Ballybeg, near Mitchelstown, were possessed by royal patent by Devereux Spratt in 1641, and were alienated or lost by his descendants.

1669. Ulick Bourke est curatus de Mitchelstown. [V.B. 1669.]

S. Alford graduated A.B., T.C.D., in 1663, and A.M. in 1667. In 1663 he became P. Brigowne, &c.; in 1667, V. Ballyloughy and Liscarroll, and Curate of Doneraile, Cahirduggan, Ballebeg, Rossdouke, and Rossagh; in 1669, V. Bregoge and Kilbrowney. All these livings and curacies he held until his death, which took place early in the year 1670.

Mr. Alford's will, made probably shortly before his death, was lost by his executor; but a draft of it was attested on 6th June, 1670, and proved 17th June, same year. By this will Alford seems to have had no issue, if he had ever married; for he leaves legacies to servants, and the remainder of his bills, books, and miscellaneous effects to all his brothers and sisters in England who may prove their claims, in equal portions. This will is the earliest of those made by clergymen which remain in Cork registry. [D.R.] He was probably a member of the Alford family in Somersetshire. I find a Lancelot Alford was appointed Clerk of the Hanaper in Ireland, on 5th Nov., 1560, and Surveyor-General, in 1572. He died in 1591.

He left Walter Wilcox his executor; and I think that he was the eldest son of Nicholas Wilcox, of Dublin, who, by his wife, Joyce, whose will was dated in 1664, had two sons, Thomas and Walter, and a daughter, Sarah. There was another Thomas, eldest son of Thomas Wilcox, of Dublin, who in 1660 entered T.C.D. at the age of twelve.

1716. In this year GEORGE STRODE (vice Quaile, deceased), was admitted to the P. Brigowne, R. Kilgulane, V. Marshalstown and Ballydeloughy. The date of his admission is not now in the registry, but he appears from the chapter books to have taken the usual oath as P. Brigowne on 15th Nov. 1716. He was again collated to these benefices on 30th June, 1721, when he received, in addition, the vicarages of Litter, Derryvillane, and Killathie. [D.R.] In 1721/2, March 14, Strode became P. Glanworth, q. v.

1721/2. March 21. THOMAS RYDER, A.M. (vice Strode, resigned), P. Brigowne, and R. V. Dingindonovan. [D.R.] He took the chapter oath on 17th May, 1722, was elected Œconomus 13th Nov. 1724; and on 16th Oct. 1746, he was fined 20*s*. for non-attendance at chapter meetings. [C.B.]

In 1807, on building the glebe-house at Brigowne, the base of the round tower there was dug up to furnish squared stones for that work. It stood south-west of the old church, and had long been reduced to a level with the ground. On digging some feet below the surface, it appeared evidently to rest on a square foundation, in one of the angles of which was built up the fragment of a large stone (carelessly, however, and as a thing of no value), on which the letters H, U, and O could be distinguished. A letter shaped like P was repeated more than once, as also C or G. Three rows of these letters were visible. [Bennet MSS.]

However, one of his sons, Peter, remained in Dublin, and left issue, [vide his will, dated 7th August, and proved 21st Oct. 1639,] by his wife, Elisabeth, dau. of John Rantorps, of Lyenborgh, in Germany, a son, Peter, who was, in 1658, Mayor of Dublin. This last-named Peter married Sarah, dau. of Bartholomew Drope, of London, and died intestate, leaving (besides a son, Peter, to whom administration of his father's effects was granted on 7th Nov. 1699), a son, Bartholomew, who was father to Rev. Peter Wybrants, who married Margaret, dau. of Rev. Stephen Handcock, Dean of Clonmacnoise. The children of this marriage were three daughters—Hannah, wife of Rev. Daniel Mathews; Anne, and Elisabeth; besides a son, Stephen, who married, in 1752, Alicia Cane. This Stephen last named had issue, besides eight children, who died unmarried, Peter (eldest son) who married Martha Burton, and had issue a daughter, Maria-Jane, and two other children, both dead; Robert (second son) who, by his wife, Christiana Browne, had issue, Robert, now of 47, Rutland-square, Dublin, who married, firstly, Emily Trevilian; and secondly, Maria M'Grigor Skinner, but has no issue; and Gustavus (fifth son) the V. Castlelyons.

The above account of the Wybrants family has been taken from the MSS. of the late Sir W. Betham, now in the Ulster

Office, with some additions from family papers now in the possession of Robert Wybrants, esq., of Rutland-square, who is also owner of the houses on Merchants'-quay and in Bridge-street, mentioned by Gilbert (in his History of Dublin, vol. i. pp. 330 and 375) to have been occupied by Alderman Peter Wybrants in 1658 and 1669.

The Rev. Gustavus Wybrants was, from 1793 to 1824, Rector of the union of Askeaton, in the diocese of Limerick; and from 1796 to his death in March, 1824, V. Castlelyons.

He married, in 1797, Mary, relict of Rev. Arthur Champagne, and dau. of Rev. Philip Homan. He left issue by her one son, Stephen-William, deceased; and six daughters—Mary-Anne, wife of Lieut.-Col. Middleton, 42nd Regt.; Alice (deceased) who was wife to Rev. Edward Herbert, P. Kilpeacon, Limerick; Henrietta (deceased) who was wife to Charles-Paul Dawson, esq.; Elisabeth (deceased) who was wife to Charles-Widenham Fosbery, esq.; Frances-Harriet; and Letitia.

1824. July 17. ARTHUR CHAMPAGNE, A.M. (vice Wybrants, deceased), V. Castlelyons. [F.F.]

Arthur Champagne was a descendant of the ancient family of De Robillard, of Saintonge, in France. His more immediate ancestor was the Chevalier Josias de Robillard, Seigneur de Champagne, in the parish of Torcé, in Saintonge, who left that place at the revocation of the edict of Nantes, and became a Captain in Scravenmore's dragoons. He was deputed by the Huguenot officers of William's army to represent their sufferings and privations to government, and for that purpose remained in London after the departure of his companions for Ireland. The efforts he made to come up with his regiment, and the fatigue he underwent, brought on so severe an illness, that he died in Belfast, in October, 1688. He took the name of Champagne instead of de Robillard, according to the practice of all refugees of landed property, who adopted generally their territorial designation in place of the patronymic.

His wife was Marie de la ROCHEFOUCAULD, a daughter of that great ducal house, and her genealogy can be traced in an unbroken line from "vir illustrissimus et potentissimus Fulcandus de Castro qui vocatur Rocha," otherwise "de Rupe Fulcandus," of the 11th century. By this lady, who was buried at Portarlington, the Chevalier had issue two sons, Josias and Augustus; and a daughter, Susanne, wife of the Baron Tonnay-boutonne et de St. Surin, and mother by him, of Henri Auguste, Baron de la Motte Fouque, the celebrated Prussian General under Frederick the Great, grandfather of Baron de la Motte Fouque, the distinguished German writer of romance.

The Chevalier's eldest son, Josias, accompanied his parent in his exile, and was Ensign in La Mellionier's regiment at the Boyne when but seventeen years old, where he so distinguished himself that he was appointed Aide-de-camp to the Lord Lieutenant, and afterwards attained the rank of Major in the army. This Major Josias Champagne married Jane, the eldest daughter of Arthur Forbes, second Earl of Granard, and had issue by her an only son, Arthur Champagne (born 1714, died 1800) who was in holy orders, and held, among other church preferments, the deanery of Clonmacnoise.

Dean Arthur Champagne married Marianne, dau. of Major (afterwards Colonel) Isaac Hamon, and by her, who was buried at Mallow, county Cork, on 22nd August, 1784, had issue four sons:—1. Arthur, in holy orders, P. Monnehonnock, St. Patrick's, Dublin, and R. Cloncah, Derry. He married, in May, 1788, Mary, dau. of Rev. Philip Homan, of Siroch, county Westmeath, and died in 1791, leaving an elder son, Arthur, V. Castlelyons, and a posthumous child, Forbes; 2. George, Canon of Windsor, and Rector of Twickenham; 3. Forbes, a Brigadier-General; 4. General Sir Josias, who married Dorcas, sister of Rev. Thomas Brownrigg, of Rathdowny, county Wicklow, and Ballydaniel, county Wexford, and relict of —— White, esq. Sir Josias left an only child, Arthur, of 55, Harley-street, Cavendish-square, London. Dean Champagne had also six daughters:—1. Jane, Countess of Uxbridge; 2. Henrietta, wife of Sir Erasmus Dixon Borrowes, Baronet; 3. Marianne, wife of Sir Charles Des Vœux, Bart.; 4. Charlotte, wife of Colonel William Armstrong. 5. Deborah, wife of Rev. Samuel Close, of Elm Park, county Armagh; 6. Letitia, wife of George Stepney, esq., of Durrow, King's county; and after his death wife of Edward Skeffington Smyth, esq., of Mount Harry, Queen's county.

The Vicar of Castlelyons had been P. C. of Durrow, Meath, before he accepted Castlelyons. He was presented to Durrow by his cousin, Colonel Stepney. He resigned Castlelyons in 1830, and resided afterwards in the county Limerick. Having succeeded to the estates of his uncles, George and Forbes, and of his brother, Forbes, he died, unmarried, in Dublin, on 2nd Nov., 1862.

1709. "Besides an English school for the education of poor children in the Protestant religion, there is a public free school, which is an elegant building, composed of one main structure and two returns, over which was lately a handsome dome. This school was founded, anno 1709, by the Lady Elizabeth Villiers. She was eldest daughter of Sir Edward Villiers, father of Edward, Earl of Jersey, and Maid of Honour to Queen Mary when Princess of Orange; and in 1695 was married to the Lord George Hamilton, third son of William, Duke of Hamilton, afterwards created Earl of Orkney. She expended a considerable sum of money in building this house, and settled a good estate on this endowment for the support of a master, two ushers' assistants, a writing-master; and £50 a-year for scholars entered from this school into the University of Dublin."

"She reserved for herself a power to make rules for the governing this school. The governors first appointed by the charter were the Earls of Orkney and Inchiquin, Thomas Brodrick, Alan Brodrick, and Samuel Maynard, esqrs.; Lieutenant Peter Bettesworth, and their respective heirs, together with the Bishop of Cork, and the Sovereign of Middleton. They nominate the master, who has £100 a-year salary; an usher, who has £20 per annum; and a writing-master, £20 per annum. There is £10 per annum for repairs of the house; with the sum of £50 to be distributed in exhibitions to scholars (of this house) in Dublin College, as the majority of the governors shall direct, provided that not more than £15 be paid to one person; and if such scholars are not to be had, this money is to go to such charitable uses as the governors shall direct. The estate bequeathed to this school are the lands of Ballynehortig, Ballynerequine, Ballynameuile, Ballynodagha, 64 acres of Tullagh loane, lying in the barony of Kinalea and Kerricurihy, and all the lands leased by the late King James to Sir Richard Mead, at the rent of £100 per annum; the lands of Ballysabeg and Kilgoban, in the barony of Carbery, containing 331 acres; and all other lands in the said barony formerly set to William North, esq., by the late King James, at £100 per an." [Smith's Cork, vol. i. p. 145.]

"The church is a neat structure, and well pewed, and the steeple is capable of holding a ring of bells. On a white marble, on the Gospel side of the altar, is this inscription:—'Elizabeth Atkin, alias Coningsby, wife to Walter Atkin, Clerk, and Incumbent of this parish, of the family of Hampton-court, county of Hereford, England, A sincere friend, A prudent mistress, A tender mother, A dutiful wife, A true Christian; Died in fervent Faith and Devotion, November the 4th, 1713. John Webb, born circa 1644, in Dublin, (son of George Webb), entered T.C.D. on 10th Nov., 1660, being then sixteen years old.

From 1667 to 1670 he was P. Inskenny, Cork; and from 1667 to 1669, V. Macroom and Ballyvourney, and V. Macloneigh, in Cork. From 1668 to 1670 he was R. Ardagh. In 1669 he was a Vicar Choral of Cork, and in 1670 held the P. Coole, but resigned both these preferments in 1670. From 1668 to 1684 he was Chancellor of Cloyne, and from 1670 to 1684 was also R. Templeroan, and V. Castlemagner and Kilbrin.

1685. Nov. 14. GILBERT HEATHCOTE, A.M., Chancellor of Cloyne, and V. Castlemagner, Rogeri Calvi, and Kilbrin. [F.F.]

Gilbert Heathcote was son of Captain Gilbert Heathcote, who was son of George Heathcote, of Brampton, near Chesterfield, the brother of Gilbert Heathcote, Alderman of Chesterfield, regno Caroli I. This Alderman Gilbert Heathcote was the progenitor of the two Baronetical families of Heathcote now extant.

Captain Gilbert Heathcote served in Ireland in the Parliamentary forces in 1658, as is mentioned by his sister's husband, John Shaw, author of "The Saint's Tombstone." The Captain's son, Gilbert, studied at Cambridge, and became M.A. of Christ's College. He took holy orders, and in 1683 was Curate of Youghal; and from 1685 to 1693, when he was deprived, doubtless for nonconformity, was Chancellor of Cloyne.

He married, circa 1680, Sarah, eldest daughter of SIR RICHARD KENNEDY, Bart., of Mountkennedy, county Wicklow. She was sister to the wife of Dr. EDWARD JONES, BISHOP of CLOYNE. Mrs. Heathcote died at Tomore, county Wicklow, part of her father's estate, in Sept., 1731, being then in her seventy-third year. [Hayman.]

T. Meulk (son of Samuel Meulk, "Ducis," who married, in 1705, Mary Smith, of Charleville), was born in Cork; and when seventeen years old, entered T.C.D., on 12th June, 1734.

He was ordained Deacon on 28th Feb., 1742, and Priest on 6th May, 1743, both at Cloyne.

He was appointed Curate of Clonmeen in 1757, and on 29th June, 1758, was licensed to the curacy of Clonmeen and Roskeen. From 1759 to his death in 1772, he was V. Clondulane.

I think Meulk was Curate of Mallow. In 1745 he was a member of the Moyallow Loyal Protestant Society.

He married, in 1745, Anne Webb, of Mallow, and by her had a large family, as appears by the following inscription, taken from the old church of Mallow:—"In testimony of his filial piety, Capt. Thos. Meuth (sic) erected this Monument in Memory of his Honored Father, the Rev. Thos. Meuth, who departed this life, May the 11th, 1772, aged 58 ys. 7 of his children, and Miss Grace Webb, lie interred in this grave."

The will of Rev. T. Meulk was dated in 1771, and proved in 1783, at Cloyne. Anne Meulk was executrix.

Samuel Monsell was a member of the family of Monsell, of Tervoe, county Limerick. He was descended from John Monsell, of Melcome Regis, county Dorset, whose son John obtained property near Askeaton, county Limerick, and died circa 1637, leaving several children.

Samuel Monsell was licensed on 29th July, 1766, to the curacy of Mallow, and on 5th July, 1780, to that of Knockmourne and Ballynoe. From 1791 to 1811 he was Precentor of Ardfert, and in 1811 became Curate of Fermoy. He was also, from 1798 to 1805, R. V. Clonmult; and from 1805 to his death in November, 1818, he was V. Clondulane.

Mr. Monsell was wealthy and eccentric, fond of long walks, and a bachelor. On 27th June, 1813, he made his will, which he commenced in the following terms:—"Being obliged to leave Waterford in a hurry, in order to let my tythes at Fermoy," &c. He also made this singular bequest, "I have left one thousand pounds to wage legal war with the Lord Bishop of Limerick, if he won't restore a glebe of 72 acres on demand, having made a lease of it, as I was entitled to do, for 21 years."

He died on the road-side in the course of one of his lengthened pedestrian excursions; and his strong box, or iron chest, was broken open by some parties who had it in trust, and who thus cut off all means of recovering a great part of his wealth, which was supposed to be in the funds under a feigned name.

1818. Dec. 15. ALEXANDER GRANT (vice Monsell, deceased), V. Clondulane. [D.R.]
1830. Protestant population, 85.

Alexander Grant (3rd son of Thomas Grant, esq., of Kilmurry, by Elisabeth Campion, of Leitrim, county Cork), was ordained Deacon, at Cork, on 26th Sept., 1790, and Priest, at Cloyne, on 5th Oct., 1794.

He was licensed on 5th Oct., 1794, to the curacy of Mogeely; and from 1818 to his death on 23rd Oct., 1833, was V. Clondulane.

He married, on 26th July, 1792, at St. Nicholas', Cork, Ann, second dau. of Peter Carey, esq., of Careysville, near Fermoy; and by her had issue two sons, Alexander, who married Margaret Anne Crossley, and died in 1848; and Jasper-Alexander, R. Litter, q. v. He had also two daughters, Anna-Esther, who became wife to Thomas St. John Grant, esq., of Kilmurry; and Thomasina-Croker, wife of Jasper Grant, esq., of Cork.

The Rev. A. Grant was 68 years old when he died. He was interred at Kilworth.

Thomas Palmer, a lineal descendant of Thomas Palmer, of Rockingham (A.D. 1402), county Northampton, had been Page of Honour to ANNE HYDE, wife of JAMES II. He was Judge of the Admiralty Court of Munster, and of the Consistorial Court of Ardfert and Aghadoe, and was the first Protestant Rector of the crown livings of Kenmare, Kilgarvan, Templenoe, Kilcroghan, and Cahirciveen. He was appointed to the commission of the peace for the county Kerry on 15th May, 1679. Vide a book preserved in the King's Inns Library, Dublin, entitled, "An exact relation of the Persecutions, Robberies, and Losses sustained by the Protestants of Kilmare, in Ireland, with an account of their erecting a fortress to defend themselves against the bloody insolences of the Papists, 1691."

Thomas Palmer, in 1652, had a grant of land at Kenmare, which had been the property of the O'Sullivans, and which, in 1770, became the possession of the EARL of SHELBOURNE.

Mr. Palmer married, firstly, Jane, dau. of William Aldworth, esq., of Duhallow, county Cork; and secondly, Shelah, dau. of the O'Sullivan More. For his issue vide Burke's L. G.—articles, PALMER, of KILMARE, and ORPEN, of GLANEROUGH.

1700. May 7. The Chapter of Cloyne order a lease of the rectory of Kilcorkerane, alias Cloghane, to be made to Mr. Charles Northcote and his successors, Vicars of Newmarket, at such rent as the Economus shall think fit on viewing the same. On 20th May, 1703, Mr. Northcote obtained an abatement of a fourth part of his rent, in consideration of serving the cure of Kilcorcoran, and a new lease is ordered to him at 4 li. per an.

1710. November 16. Mr. Charles Northcote, Preb. of Kilmacdonogh, submitted his claim (by his proctor, Mr. Walter Atkin, Treasurer), to the parish of Kilcorcorane, which he claimed as Vicar of Newmarket. The Chapter repudiated his claim, and decreed him to appear in person next chapter, and publicly renounce his pretension.

On 13th November, 1717, the Chapter refuses to make any payment to Northcote for the cure of Kilcorkoran until he shall appear and renounce "all right, title, and pretension whatever to the pretended vicarage of Kilcorkeran." In 1722 Mr. Northcote has a dispute about the bounds of Kilcorkeran parish, and a commission of perambulation is ordered; and again in 1725 a similar commission is ordered. [C.B.]

1765. April 25. Laurence Arundel adm. Ludimagister Scholæ de Clonfert. This was the Rev. L. Arundel, who, on 13th August, 1762, had been licensed to teach Greek and Latin in the city of Cork. He was buried at Newmarket on 26th January, 1779.

1768. The following inscription is now (1863) visible on a flat stone over a vault, near the entrance of the old churchyard of Clonfert: "Johannes Creagh obiit 8° die martis anno Dom. 1768. Ætatis 92.

Hic veneranda pii requiescant ossa Parentis,
Dum tuba prolifico renovatum pulvere corpus
Evocet ad sedes, sic fas sperare, beatas.
Richardus, Johannes, filii obsequentissimi posuere."

John Creagh, whose death was thus recorded, was a member of an ancient Irish family, which was settled in Cork so early as the time of Edward III., and continued for two centuries to form intermarriages with the leading merchants, and to attain power and wealth. In 1644, however, when the other ancient Irish inhabitants were expelled Cork, William Creagh, with his son, John, left that city.

John settled near Newmarket, and was buried in Clonfert churchyard; and left an eldest son, John Creagh, of Killowen, near Newmarket, who died as above is mentioned.

He left a numerous family, and his descendants still possess the lands of Killowen, in Clonfert parish.

1774. Oct. 16. John Philpot Curran, esq., and Sarah Creagh, both of this parish, were married, by licence, by the Curate, Henry Weston, in presence of Richard Odell and Jeremiah Keller. [Par. Reg.] The celebrated Curran, whose memory is still affectionately remembered in the land of his birth, was born on or about 24th of July or August, 1751, in a house which has long been removed, which stood to the west of the present (1863) court-house in Newmarket. His father, James Curran, was probably from the north of Ireland, and held the office of Seneschal of the Manor of Newmarket under the Aldworth family. His mother was of gentle blood, being a descendant of Henry Philpot, of Feversham, in Kent, whose grandson, John Philpot, of Feversham, had, inter alios (besides Sir John Philpot, Judge of the Common Pleas), a son, Nicholas

Philpot, who, by his wife, Anne (dau. of William, and sister of Sir Richard Aldworth, of Newmarket), had two sons, John and Gregory. John the last named was grandfather to William Philpot, of Dromagh, whose estates passed by marriage to his great grandson, Nicholas Philpot Leader, esq., whose son, N. P. Leader, is now (1863) M.P. for Cork county. Gregory (the other son of Nicholas Philpot and Anne Aldworth), by his wife, Bridgett, dau. of John Evatt, Dean of Elphin, had issue two sons, Michael (P. Dromdaleague, Cork, q. v.); and Laurence, who married Sarah, dau. of Hugh Wigton, of Raphoe, and had issue Sarah, wife of James Curran, and mother of John-Philpot and Laurence Curran. Mr. Boyse, or Boyce, the Vicar of Clonfert, of whose charitable disposition there are some traces in the old books of the parish, perceived and fostered the germs of genius in the youthful Curran. He taught him Greek and Latin, and sent him at his own charges to Middleton school, from whence Curran entered T.C.D. as Sizar, in 1769, and became a Scholar in 1770. It is not within the scope of this work to give a biography of Curran. His life has been already more than once written; and it will be enough here to record the issue of the marriage which he, unhappily for himself, formed as above in 1774. On 29th May, 1776, Richard-Creagh, son of John and Sarah Curran, was baptized. On 22nd Sept. 1777, Sarah-Gertrude; on 2nd January, 1779, Emily-Maria; on 23rd Dec. 1779, Eliza-Odella; on 19th January, 1784, John; and on 31st January, 1787, James, children of John and Sarah Creagh, were baptized at Newmarket. Another daughter, Gertrude, born in 1780, died on 6th October, 1792, and was buried at the Priory, Rathfarnham. One of his daughters, Sarah, the betrothed of Emmett, and wife of Mr. Sturgeon, lies buried in Newmarket. Only a rough stone marks the spot. (Vide supra, vol. i. p. 53.) Another daughter, Eliza, I suppose, was wife to an English clergyman, Mr. Taylor; and another daughter, Amelia, resided at Clifton, near Bristol, for some time.

J. P. Curran died at nine o'clock on the evening of 14th Oct. 1817, at his house, Amelia-place, Brompton, Middlesex, London. His funeral, which took place on 4th November, was private, the hour being communicated only to the mourners. Between twelve and one the procession left Upper Grosvenor-street, where the body had been deposited the night before. There were but three mourning and three private carriages. Mr. Curran, barrister, Captain Curran, and Mrs. Taylor, his children, and Mr. Thomas Moore, Mr. Godwin, and Mr. Charles Philips, attended. The body was deposited in a vault at Paddington, and was twenty years afterwards removed to Glasnevin. In the parish church of Clifton, on the south wall, under a female figure, mourning, is the following inscription:—

This entry was after December, 1776, and before January, 1777. The pages following have been lost, so I am unable to trace this legacy further, until the year 1806, when the vestry acknowledge the receipt of "£1 10*s*., interest of £50, the bequest of Richard Aldworth, esq., paid by the representatives of William Connell." After some time the payment of the interest of this £50 ceased, nor was it recovered until the year 1862, when the principal and interest were paid through the medium of the Incumbered Estates Court to the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests. It is now called the Connell Bequest by the Charity Commissioners, although it has been pointed out to them that Connell borrowed, not bequeathed the money.

Michael Creagh left £100 to the poor of Clonfert parish, the interest of which, amounting to £5 10*s*. 9*d*. yearly, is still punctually paid to the Vicar of Clonfert by the representatives of the testator. Roffen and his successors, Vicars of said parish, for twenty-one years, at a rent of £20 per an. In 1710, Nov. 16, a new lease is ordered to be made to Mr. Roffen, at £16 during the war with France, and £20 after its conclusion. On the first advancement of the rent, £5 is to be given towards adorning the east end of the church. Downes Conran was a younger son of Robert Conran, of Walshestown, county Cork, by Mary, dau. of Christopher Carlton, father of Dean Robert Carlton. The grandfather of Downes was Richard Conran, also of Walshestown, and of Burton, county Cork.

Downes Conran was born near Kinsale, in 1706, and when sixteen years old entered T.C.D. as Pensioner on 20th May, 1722. He was ordained Deacon on 3rd March, and Priest on 17th March, 1728, by the Bishop of Cloyne; and on 18th March, 1728, was admitted to the rectory of Bruhenny, which he held until the 18th Nov. 1735, when he was collated to the V. Clonmel and Templerobin.

His will was proved in Dublin, in 1761, and in it he mentions a sister, Anne, wife of Thomas Gibbings, esq., of Gibbings-grove, county Cork. He was married, and his relict and executrix appears to have had a renewal of her husband's lease of the Œconomy part of the tithes and land of Clonmel in 1764, but in 1766 she ceased to hold that property.

The following extract from a letter of Bishop Berkeley, dated 20th March, 1734, has reference to Mr. Cox:—"There is one Mr. Cox, a clergyman, son to the late Dr. Cox, near Drogheda, who, I understand, is under the patronage of Dr. Coghill. Pray inform yourself of his character; whether he be a good man, one of parts and learning, and how he is provided for. I should be glad to be apprized of his character. No one has recommended him to me; but his father was an ingenious man; and I saw two sensible women, his sisters, at Rhode Island, which inclines me to think him a man of merit; and such only I would prefer." [Berkeley's Works.]

In 1672, May 30, Vayle not appearing, is ordered to be suspended ab officio, and his vicarage is sequestered. On 2nd March, 1675, is the following entry made in the chapter books :—"Whereas the Bishop has collated William Vayle one of the Vicars Choral, yet, notwithstanding it is evident that he cannot enjoy the same by that collation. However, in consequence of a reference by word of mouth from Thomas, Lord Abp. of Cashel, at his triennial visitation, held at Cloyne this day, directed to us, the Dean and Chapter, to consider of an expedient that neither the organ be destitute of an organist, nor the present organist, the said William Vayle, of a competent maintenance, we humbly request and represent that it is convenient that the said William Vayle shall continue to enjoy the one moiety of the profits of the 4 vicarages belonging to the 4 Vicars Choral, provided he keep in repair the organ, and at his own cost find one to blow the bellows." Vayle, on March 3, 1721, resigned the vicarage which he held as organist, and Mr. Kearney was appointed thereto, but was to pay Vayle £10 p. an. for his life out of the profits. [Cloyne Chapter Books.]

Daniel Fitzsymons, in 1669 and 1670, is marked "absent studendi gratia." [V.B. D.R.] He is said to have been nominated by the Dean in a chapter entry of 9th Aug., 1671, at which time it was agreed that Considine should enjoy Fitzsymons' vicarage during the incumbency of Fitzsymons, paying to Fitzsymons £15 yearly. And that when Fitzsymons shall have other preferment, Considine shall pay him £12 yearly, and serve his cure. On June 11, 1674, it was decreed that Daniel Fitzsymons be deprived, and that his vicarage be vacant and sequestered. [Cloyne Chapter Book.]

Extract from a letter of Bp. Berkeley, dated Cloyne, Feb. 2, 1749: "Our round tower stands where it did, but the little stone arched vault on the top was cracked. The bell also was thrown down, and broke its way through three boarded stories, but remains entire. The door was shivered into many very small pieces, and dispersed, and there was a stone forced out of the wall. The thunder clap was the loudest I ever heard in Ireland."

The following is a more particular account of this accident: "A storm of lightning, with thunder, on the night of January 10, 1749, passed through the country in a line from W. to E., and after killing some cows in a field S. of Cork, struck the round tower of Cloyne. It first rent the vaulted arch at the top, threw down the great bell, together with three galleries, and descending perpendicularly to the lowest floor, forced its way with a violent explosion through one side of the tower, and drove some of the stones, which were admirably well jointed, through the roof of a neighbouring stable. The door, though secured by a strong iron lock, was thrown to the distance of sixty yards, and quite shattered to pieces. A few pigeons that used to roost on the top of the steeple were scorched to death, not a feather of them being left unsinged. With the same bad taste which distinguishes all the works of architecture of this era, the vaulted stone roof of the tower was never repaired, but the height was lowered more than 6 feet, and a vile battlement, in imitation of the worst English churches, substituted in its stead." The following account of Cloyne, of the date 1813, or a little later, is taken from the manuscripts of Bishop Bennet:—

CATHEDRAL, TOWN, AND ENVIRONS.

"Smith (in his History of Cork, vol. i., p. 135,) has represented the state of the Cathedral in his time, and given a list of the inscriptions on the tombs. It is a respectable building with a handsome nave and transept, and a small choir, all kept in better order than is usual in the ancient Irish churches. By the style of the building I should suppose it not older than 1250. It has no mouldings of the zig-zag, nailhead, or billeted kind, nor round arched windows, which distinguish what is called the Saxon or rather Norman architecture, before the introduction of the Gothic, temp. Henry III., and which appears, for instance, in Cormac's Chapel, at Cashel; nor, on the other hand, has it the splendid arch or oak-leaved ornamentation so common towards the middle of the reign of Edward I. I should, therefore, fix the era of its erection to the latter years of the first of these princes, or the beginning of the reign of the last. The windows, though since altered, were evidently lancet-shaped, as was common in the time of Henry III. See the great west window and that of the south transept, the latter on the outside, which is an additional reason for the date I have chosen, as is also the circumstance that about this time three Prelates out of four were from England, where monastic and cathedral architecture were in high estimation. The Bishops Johnson and Woodward are buried in this cathedral. In erecting the present cross wall, at the entrance to the choir, which was done by Bishop Agar, 1776, as the workmen dug deep in the nave to lay the foundation, they discovered a row of graves of rather singular construction, consisting of brick cells, exactly suited to the size and shape of the body contained in each, and what is curious enough, one of them ended at the shoulders, nor were any of the bones of the skull to be found with the body. It is, therefore, not improbable that the head of the owner may have been fixed on Cork gates in the times of turbulence, as they appear, in the print given us of that city in Pacata Hibernia, to be full of such kind of trophies.

"The round tower, situated near the west door of the cathedral, is in excellent preservation. The dimensions of it are as follows:—Height, 92 feet; circumference, 50; thickness of walls, 3 feet 8 inches; height of door from ground, 13 feet. It has stones projecting on the first story for the joists of a floor to rest on. Windows seem to have lighted different stories, and at the top were four in number, as is invariably the case. The summit, however, has been absurdly altered, probably after it was struck by lightning in 1749, into the shape of battlements, instead of being closed at top as usual. The stones of which the tower is formed have been chiefly brought from the sea-shore, though about half way up the building the stones themselves, as well as the mode of placing them, undergo an evident alteration. Within the tower hangs the single bell belonging to the church, presented by Dean Davies. The steps to the door are also modern, like the battlements, for these round towers (whatever may have been their use), were always entered by a rope or ladder.

"In the eastern part of the church-yard, which is large and well planted, still remain the ruins of a small stone edifice (standing east and west, 30 feet long and 19 in breadth), known by the name of St. Colman's Chapel, and probably one of those oratories or early churches still to be seen at Killaloe or St. Donat's, treated of by Ledwich in his Antiquities.

"The town of Cloyne is situated on a small limestone eminence, gently rising in the midst of the valley, through which I suppose Cork harbour to have once communicated with the sea, and this eminence, therefore, was once an island surrounded with water; afterwards, on the water partially drying up, by a deep bog; and at present, by rich and in general well improved meadows, to which the plantations about the church and see house, with the round tower appearing everywhere above them, give a good effect. On this spot, when in its first or second state of transition (and in either it was a place of considerable security), St. Colman before the year 600, is supposed to have founded his church, and the security of it must have received no small addition from the circumstance of a cave, which is on the most elevated part of it, extending in various branches underground to a great distance. In those unsettled and barbarous ages, caves of this sort were resorted to by the natives on the first appearance of an enemy, and the invaders seldom being able to make a long stay, the wives and children of the tenants, and perhaps even their cattle, would remain in tolerable safety till the country could collect in their defence. It is certain that places of refuge of this sort were looked upon as of so much necessity, that in some of the Hebrides we find artificial caves constructed for this purpose, and where nature had provided one so deep and roomy as this, the rude inhabitants of the time would as naturally graze their flocks and build their huts in its neighbourhood, as in later days they raised their cottages under the shelter of a Norman castle. This idea, also, will receive confirmation from the name of the town, Cluaine, signifying a cave in the Irish language.

"The cave is now in the field called the Rock-meadow, forming part of the Bishop's demesne, a little east of his garden wall, and they having been long neglected, and the drains from it choked up, it is generally full of water in winter, yet there is a large arched passage, running some hundred yards, leading to another mouth in the shrubbery north of it. A third but smaller opening is also visible in the high ground above the pond, a fourth near the road to the commons, and these or similar entrances being known to the first inhabitants, gave the Irish name to the whole of this land (which since the enclosure is preserved in the small field joining it) of Nonelus Ry, or the field of the caverns.

"That such caves were used in Ireland for the purpose of security, appears from the Iceland Annals. [See 'Antiq.: Celts and Scandinav.' page 14.]

"'Leifr went on piracy to the west, and infested Ireland with his arms. He there discovered large subterraneous caves, the entrances of which were dark and dismal; but on entering they saw the glittering of the swords which the men held in their hands. The men they slew, and brought the swords, with much riches, away.'

"Thus I conjecture Cloyne to have been originally inhabited in the earliest times, in consequence of the security afforded by its caves, and to have increased in fame after 600, from the veneration paid to its saint, the round tower certainly affording a mark of its importance in the year 900, or at least long before the English invasion in 1171. [From the best opinion I can form on this disputed subject, I conclude the Irish round towers to have been raised by the Ostmen, on their conversion to Christianity, about 900.]

"When the old retreat of the cave became of less consequence, from the change of manners, the safety of the inhabitants was equally consulted about 1200, by the erection of several strong and insulated castles, as seems to have been the case in all the old Irish towns of much note, to which the inmates of the neighbouring caverns retired in times of danger, at once receiving and giving protection. One of these castles was, as we have seen, at the south-east angle of the square, formed by the meeting of the four streets; a second stood in Garryowen-lane, on the north side of the road; and another somewhat to the east of the present see house: these buildings were probably raised by the Powers, or Fitzgeralds, most likely by the latter, who possessed almost the whole barony of Imokilly, first when newly settled in the country as a defence against the savage natives, and afterwards, when assimilated to them in manners and religion, as a protection to them. The advantage of the commons at a still later era operated as a cause of increase to the population, so that even at present, though exceeded in splendour of buildings and many other advantages by the neighbouring towns of Middleton and Castlemartyr, it is not considerably below them in number, which by a tolerably accurate computation, in 1800, amounted to more than 1,600 souls. [The inhabited houses were as follows:—Church-lane, 75; Roch-lane, 35; River-lane, 62; Spital-lane, 136. By a later and more accurate enumeration taken on oath in 1813, the number of inhabitants amounted to 2,020, the town then having 308 inhabited houses, and at least 5½ persons to every house on an average.] As there is no other market for the whole well-peopled peninsula from Ballycotton to Rostillan, the influx of persons on a market or fair day is very considerable indeed. The ancient names of the neighbouring fields and ground speak the savageness of the place in early times, Knockna Madree is the hill of the grey dog or wolf; Park Nadristrig, the field of briers; Monewraniskey, the meadow of the wild boars.

"Of the hills that surround the town, that on the north is Bohermore, or the great highway; from a tradition that a road passed over it from the sea on the south to that on the north of the kingdom. The hill to the north-west is, as we have said, Knockna Nadree, the hill of the Wolf, and to the north-east is Courtoun, or the hill with the naked turn, which expresses its present appearance with much precision."

The new organ, bought by the Chapter in 1813, cost £800. [Bennet MSS.]

He was Chaplain-General to the Army in the province of Munster during the rebellion, with an allowance of 20*s.* per day; and was plundered by the rebels of property to the value of £565. [MS. T.C.D. F. 2. 17.]

He married, firstly, Margaret, dau. of Dr. George Synge, Bishop of Cloyne, by whom he had a daughter, Martha, but had the misfortune to lose both wife and daughter by shipwreck, in 1641. He married, secondly, Mary, dau. of DERMOT, LORD INCHIQUIN, by Ellin, dau. of SIR EDWARD FITZGERALD, of Cloyne. He had by her, inter alios, a son, Murrough, who was created VISCOUNT BLESINTON. Vide Lodge's Peerage, edition of 1754, vol. i., pages 73 and 74.

1661. April 10. HENRICUS RUGG institutus per ltras pat' Decan' cum rect' de Clonpriest unit' p' hac vice decan'; et per easdem ltras pat' P. et Vic. de Kilmadonogh unit' p' hac vice decanatui. Rex est patron' decan' et R. et V. Kilmodonogh, sed Preb. de Kilmodonogh est in coll' Epi. [V.B. 1669.]

1669. June 3. A lease of the manse house of Farraghee, made by the Dean to George Arnold for twenty-one years, at 40*s.* per ann. (in consideration of said Arnold's having expended 12 li. in building the same, and inclosing the land), was confirmed by the Chapter of Cloyne. [Chapter Book.]

Henry Rugg was ordained Deacon and Priest by the Bishop of Cork on 24th May, 1628; and on 20th Sept. 1631, was admitted one of the Fellows of the College of the B.V.M. de Youghall. [R.V. 1634.]

league, Cork; from 1664 to 1669, Vicar Choral of Cloyne; and from 1669 to 1671, R. Bohillane and Kilmahon.

The Dean was plundered by the rebels in 1641 of property to the amount of £1,928. [MS. T.C.D. F. 2. 17.]

Dean Rugg had issue (by his wife, Sarah, relict of —— Smith), two sons, John, P. Kilmacdonogh, q. v.; and Thomas, who was a Vicar Choral of Cloyne, in 1663.

The Dean was buried in Cloyne Cathedral, under the south end of the communion table, in June, 1671.

1671. August 3. WILLIAM FITZGERALD, Dean of Cloyne, and R. Clonpriest. [F.F.] On letters patent, dated July 13. [Lib. Mun.]

In 1672, May 30, he took the chapter oath; and in 1678, January 9, was (with three others), chosen Guardian of the Spiritualities, on the death of Edward, Bishop of Cork, Cloyne, and Ross. [C.B.] He was attainted by James II. in 1689.

William Fitzgerald was the eldest son of John Fitzgerald, who was Dean of Cork from 1628 to 1641. Dean John Fitzgerald could not, however, have died in 1641, as I have stated on the authority of Cotton. On referring to Lodge (edition of 1754, vol. i., page 73), I find that he states that the Dean's wife died in Bristol, in 1641. The matriculation book of T.C.D. states that William and John, the first and the second sons respectively of "Gerald, decani Corcag.," were born in Cork, and entered as Pensioners on 22nd June, 1660, being aged, the elder nineteen, the younger seventeen years. They must, if this entry of their matriculation be correct, have been sons of Dean John Fitzgerald, by a second wife.

W. Fitzgerald was from 1661 to 1669, P. Kilmacdonogh; and from 1669 to 1691, P. Tipper, Dublin. He was also, from 1663 to 1671, V. Clondrohid; and from 1671 to 1691, Dean of Cloyne, R. Ardagh and Clonpriest; and from 1675 to 1692, Archdeacon of Ross, and R. V. Clondrohid.

From 1691 to his death in 1722 he was Bishop of Clonfert.

"William Fitzgerald, D.D., Dean of Cloyne," married, in 1688, Letitia Cole, of Dublin, spinster. [Dublin Marriage Licence, 1st July.] The Dean married, also, Mary, relict of Boyle Maynard, esq., and second daughter of SIR HENRY TYNTE, by Mabella, dau. of SIR PERCY SMITH, of Ballynatray. By her the Dean had no issue, but whether she was his first or second wife I cannot say.

1691. Sept. 4. HENRY SCARDEVILLE, B.D., is appointed Dean. [Lib. Mun.] But he was not instituted for some years; and from 1691 to 1694, Mr. Rowland Davies acted as Sub-dean.

1693. Nov. 14. The Precentor, John Patrickson, was elected President by fifteen members of the Chapter, decano absente. [Chapter Book.]

Mr. Henry Scardeville, Chaplain to present DUKE SCHOMBERG, obtained a patent some years ago for the deanery, but never came hither to exhibit his patent, nor to be installed, nor to take institution from the Bp. for a living he holds with his deanery, as required to do, but excuses himself that he is in his Majesty's service in England, and that Lord Canterbury has writ to Lords Justices in his behalf. Dominus Rex patronus. Ecclesia in ruina—lapsa." [Palliser.]

1695. August 2. Dean Scardeville was instituted. [D.R.] He took the chapter oath on 8th August. [Chapter Book.]

Dean Scardeville gave to Cloyne Cathedral one large silver chalice and a paten. [D.R.]

Henry Scardeville (born at Salisbury, and educated at Repton), entered T.C.D. when nineteen years old, on 24th April, 1673, and graduated afterwards B.D.

He was Chaplain to Field Marshal the DUKE of SCHOMBERG. From 1681 to 1685 he was R. Cloghran, Swords, Dublin; from 1682 to 1703, P. Swords, Dublin; from 1691 to 1703, Dean of Cloyne, and V. Clondrohid; and from 1693 to his death in 1703 he was Archdeacon of Ross.

The family history of Dean Scardeville is best told by the inscriptions on a mural tablet, and on a tombstone in the chancel of Swords Church, copies of which were kindly furnished by Rev. Thomas Twigg, the Incumbent.

"Here lyeth ye body of ye Rev. Henry Scardevile, Dean of Cloyn, Archdeacon of Rosse, Prebendary and Vicar of Swords, who departed this life ye 3rd of February, 1703; together with ye body of his first wife, Mary, ye daughter of the Hon. Colonel Guy Molesworth, of London, [The Dean was married in December, 1682, M. L. Dublin.] who died in childbed, and left no issue. He also married Margrety, daughter of Robert Culliford, of Encoomb, in the county of Dorsetshire, esq., who lies interred at Thistleworth, in Middlesex, by whom he had issue a son and a daughter, viz., Frederick Maynhard, and Elisabeth.

"Here also lieth the body of Elisabeth Scardevile, his daughter, who departed this life the 4th day of May, 1704."

Dean Scardeville is said to have repaired the old round tower at Swords. He left, by will, £100 for teaching the Protestant children of Swords, which bequest seems never to have been paid. His executor, Mr. John Scardeville, was sued for it by direction of the Swords Vestry, in 1731, and he appears to have handed over in lieu thereof a lease which he held from the Dean and Chapter of St. Patrick's, of the tithes of the parish of Killeek. That lease was afterwards made over to the Curate of Swords, Rev. Alexander Eustace; and the parish of Swords has had no benefit from the bequest of Dean Scardeville since the year 1774.

One Mr. Ward, who died this morning, had a sinecure of small value, it was a Hedge Deanery; (my Lord Duke will tell you what I mean); we have many of them in Ireland. 1722. A chalice bears this legend:—"The gift of Thomas Hodder and Barbara, his wife, to ye church of Gortroe, in ye diocess of Cloyne, and county of Cork, 24th of June, 1722."

Archdeacon Meade was descended from the ancient Irish family of Myaghe, or Meagh. In 1559 John Meade was M.P. for Cork city, and his son and heir, John Meade, of Ballintobber, was M.P. for the same city in 1585. The son of the last-named, John, was Sir John Meade, knt. of Ballintobber, who, by his wife, Catherine, dau. of Sir Dominick Sarsfield, the first Viscount Kilmallock, had issue an only son, William Meade, who was a Lieut.-Colonel in the Army, and raised a troop of horse for Charles II. in 1666. This Colonel William Meade, by Elisabeth, dau. of Sir Robert Travers and Elisabeth Boyle, dau. of the Archbishop of Tuam, had four sons, of whom the first was John, created a baronet in 1703, who was ancestor of the Earls of Clanwilliam, and the fourth son was Dominick, Archdeacon of Cloyne.

Dominick was born at Ballintobber, circa 1661, and, when nineteen years old, entered T.C.D., on 13th June, 1680; and, having graduated, was, on 19th Dec., 1686, ordained a Deacon at Cork.

From 1686 to 1692 he was R. Rathcony, Cork; and from 1687 to his death in 1729 or 1730 was Archdeacon of Cloyne.

B. of 9th Sept., 1695.] He also married, according to family papers, Margaret, dau. of Mathew, fifth Lord Louth, and relict of Sir Christopher Aylmer. A chalice now in Ballymartle Church has this legend:—"Ex dono Dominæ Margaritæ Meade."

The Archdeacon had issue three sons—Richard, whose son, SIR RICHARD, M.P. for Cork county in 1776, died Sp.; John, born in Tipperary, who entered T.C.D. in 1722, aged fifteen years; and Percy, V. Kinsale, Cork, q. v.

1730. Feb. 11. SOUTHWELL RICARD, A.M., Archdeacon, per mortem Dominic Meade. [D.R.] On 10th June, 1731, he took the chapter oaths. [C.B.] He seems to have been also Œconomus; for on 4th Sept., 1735, Mr. Thomas Squire was chosen to that office in room of Archdeacon Ricard, the present Œconomus, who is called out of the country upon particular occasion. [C.B.]

S. Ricard (son of Thomas Ricard, causidici), was born in Dublin; and, when seventeen years old, entered T.C.D., on 17th March, 1720, and became a Scholar in 1723.

Rincurran, Cork; from 1733 to 1742, R. Taxax, Cork; and from 1735 to his death in 1742, R. V. Agabulloge, and Archdeacon of Cloyne.

Archdeacon John Jephson was the father of William Jephson, born in 1734, in Dublin, who, when sixteen years old, entered T.C.D., on 5th July, 1750; and in 1761 [May 7. M.L.] married Thomasine, dau. of Richard Mounteney, and sister of Richard Mounteney, Baron of the Exchequer in Ireland. The second son of this William Jephson and Thomasine Mounteney was Richard-Mounteney Jephson, who, in 1815, was created a baronet, and who left, inter alios, an eldest son, SIR RICHARD MOUNTENEY JEPHSON, of the Spring Vale, county Dorset.

KANTURK, P. C.

In Kanturk, formerly a village in the parish of Clonfert, there seems to have been some place of worship in 1772, where the Curate of Clonfert used to preach about one Sunday in four. Between 1794 and 1798, during the incumbency of Richard Woodward, the Bishop's son, at Clonfert, a chapel was erected in Kanturk, on a site granted by the EARL of EGMONT, a little below the confluence of the rivers Allo and Dallua. The Earl gave, also, £50 towards the building; and William Allen, esq., of Greenfield, to whose zeal and attention the completion of the church may in a great measure be ascribed, erected in it a handsome gallery at his own expense. In 1805, Oct. 11, the Rev. George Maybury seems to have been licensed to the curacy of Kanturk by the Vicar of Clonfert, and at the Clonfert vestries of that period a parish clerk, &c., for Kanturk was regularly appointed. In 1808, however, Mr. Hewitt, the Vicar of Clonfert, took steps to have Kanturk made a perpetual cure, and in 1809 it was accordingly formed into a chapelry or parish, as it is at present.

1809. ROBERT BULLEN is Curate.

1809. July 12. The Bishop of Cloyne, and Francis Hewitt, V. Clonfert, sign the deed for erecting Kanturk into a perpetual cure, under the Act 11 and 12 George I. The Bishop assigns to the Cure of the church or chapel of Kanturk the following townlands :—"Kanturk, Geradeen, Curragh, Mylihiragh, Rosline, Coolevotas, Kilnockin, Knockelly, Knockshehy, Knockshesane, Gooseberry-hill, Carrigcashel, Barleyhill, Lismire, Duarrigle, Callaghan's Rosacon, Callaghan's Lismealcummin, Murphy's Lismealcummin, Two Clontimacades, Greenfield, Gortnaconroe, and Gortnascreggy, which several townlands shall belong to the Cure of the church or chapel of ease so erected in the town of Kanturk as aforesaid, which shall hereafter be one parish, to be called and known by the name of the parish or chapelry of Kanturk, and shall be deemed and reputed to be one entire parish, for the purposes in the said Act mentioned, saving, nevertheless, to the said Francis Hewitt and his successors, Vicars of Clonfert, otherwise Trinity Christ Church, Newmarket, all his and their rights as Vicars of said parish of Clonfert." At this time the Vicar of Clonfert allocated for the stipend of the Curate the tithes of two farms, called Coulacousane and Curragh, amounting to £54 per an. The Board of First Fruits gave an equal sum, and also gave £450 to fine down the rent of 10 plantation acres for a glebe, and an additional £450 for a house. This (says Mr. Hewitt, in his account of Clonfert, preserved in manuscript by his son), makes it one of the best curacies in the diocese, and the Bishop allows the Curate to perform the occasional duties of Tullilease, a non-cure, for which service £10 per an. is allowed. This provision for the Curate is, every way, worth £150 per an. The Earl of Egmont allows annually £30 to Mr. Bullen, as schoolmaster at Kanturk. [D.R. and Hewitt MSS.]

N.B.—The townlands above mentioned as comprising the district of the perpetual curacy, are identical with those selected on 15th June, 1807, by the parishioners of Clonfert, "for paying the clerk and sexton of Kanturk, and for keeping the chapel in repair, in order that said chapel of ease may be made a perpetual cure." [Clonfert Vestry Book.]

1809. Kanturk church was consecrated.

1809. £5 2*s.* 4½*d.* for a silver salver ; £9 2*s.* 1*d.* for a Bible and two Prayer-books ; and £1 14*s.* 1½*d.* for table-linen, were

One church, situate in the town of Kanturk, capable of accommodating 300 persons, built about the year 1792, but at what cost unknown, further than that £184 12*s.* 3¾*d.* British was granted as gift by the late Board of First Fruits for that purpose. No charge on the parish in 1832 on account of the church. Divine service is celebrated twice on Sundays in summer, and once in winter, and on the principal festivals. 1661. JOHN ASHE appears as Rector. "E. de Killaghe, Mr. Ashe comp'. Monitus est ad exhibend' litteras patentes infra sex menses." [V.B.]

John Ashe was ordained Deacon by Tobias, Archbishop of York, on 13th March, 1624, and Priest by the same Archbishop on 18th Dec., 1625.

He was from 1633 to 1661, P. Mora, Lismore; and from 16— (?) to 1661 was R. Killeagh.

JOHN ASHE, R. Killeagh, died in 1661, and in his will, dated on 18th April, 1661/2, mentions his wife, Anne, a daughter, Christian (wife of Mr. Hill), and two sons, Robert and Richard. [U.O.]

It has been inadvertently stated at pages 109 and 153 of Cork, that Richard Ashe, P. Killaspugmullane, and V. Holy Trinity, was also R. Killeagh. The error arose from the absence of any Christian name in the Visitation Book of 1661. I give here the information concerning Richard Ashe, which was omitted in the Cork Records.

Richard Ashe, A.B., was ordained Deacon by John, Bishop of London, on 1st March, 1617, and Priest by George, Bishop of Lincoln, on 20th December, 1618.

From 1626 to 1639 (?) he was P. Killaspugmullane, Cork; and from 1631 to 1639 (?) he was V. Holy Trinity, Cork.

James Spencer was Curate of Youghall in 1662. From 1662 to 1671 (?) he was V. Raghan, Ardagh. In 1663 he was Chaplain to the Bishop of Ardagh. From 1667 to his death in 1701 he was V. Inchinabacky, Clonmult, Dingindonovan, and R. Killeagh.

He was married. "Dorothy, ye wife of Mr. James Spencer, Minister," on 17th March, 1670/1, was buried in Youghall. He had issue a daughter, "ffrancis," who was baptized at Youghal on 1st Feb., 1668/9. [Youghal Par. Reg.]

I venture no remark as to the relationship of this James Spencer to Edmund, the poet. But I will here give some very brief notes of the Spencer family, which may be of interest. I find HENRY SPENCER was ordained Priest by the Bishop of Ardfert on 18th March, 1663. He was V. Drehidtarsna, in Limerick. Perhaps he is the same person who was buried in Cork, in 1646. Vide Holy Trinity Vicarage, Cork, page 110 of vol. i.

EDMUND SPENCER, the poet, died in 1599. In 1600 SIR GERALD AYLMER and SIR WILLIAM SARSFIELD grant a deed of feoffment on 20th August, of R. Athnowen, Rennybrough, R. Kilbride, Kilbrogane, Kilmainane, Agneholtie, &c., parcels of the Abbey of Grany, in Munster, to the use of Roger Seckerton and his wife (the poet's relict), with rem' to Peregrine Spencer, in tail male, with rem' to Roger Spencer and wife, with rem' to the right heirs of Edmund Spencer for ever. [Ferguson's MSS. I. 74.]

The eldest son of the poet, by his wife, Elisabeth, was SYLVANUS SPENCER. He married Ellinor, dau. of David Nagle, of Monanimy, by Ellen, dau. of William Roche, of Ballyhooly. He had two sons, Edmund, who died Sp., and William, who was heir to his brother, and recovered the estates of Kilcolman, and also, in 1697, of Renny. This William had, by his wife, Barbara, a daughter, Susannah, and a son, Nathaniel, who was of Renny, and died, having had, by his wife, Rosamund Bulkeley, a daughter, Barbara, and three sons, Edmund, Nathaniel, and John. Edmund, the last-named, was born 25th Nov., 1711, and married in 1736, Anne, dau. of John Freeman, esq., of Ballinguile.

The second son of the poet was LAURENCE SPENCER, whose will was dated in 1653, and proved in 1654, at Cloyne. In it he is styled "Laurence Spencer, of Camden Bridge, Youghal." This will (I am told by the Registrar of Cloyne) is very brief. The testator bequeathes feather beds, and a few legacies of 20 shillings each, to persons whose names seem to be Morton and Bathurst.

The poet's third son was PEREGRINE. He married Dorothy Morres, or Maurice [Book of Orders of Cromwell's Court of Claims, 1654 to 1655, pp. 213–18], and had from his brother the lands of Renny. He, in 1634, had also the impropriate rectory of Athnowen, Cork, and of Brinny. He was father of HUGOLINUS SPENCER, who married Ellinor, widow of William Roche, of Ballymaclaurace, county Cork, and became a Roman Catholic, and was outlawed. He was possessed of the impropriate rectories of Brinny and Athnowen, and appeared for them in the Visitation Books in 1694. His property was granted to WILLIAM SPENCER, his cousin, "as next Protestant heir." The only child of Hugoline Spencer was Dorothy, who was wife of Pierce Power, and bore to him three sons—Hugolin Power (who married Honora, dau. of Richard Barrett), Pierce, and William.

1634. "Ecclesia de Kilmaclenine, Emanuel Phaire, Predicator. Val. 10 li. per an." [R.V. 1634.]

Emanuel Phaire, A.B., was ordained Deacon on 23rd Dec., 1604, and Priest on 24th, 1604, both by William, Bp. of Oxford.

He was V. Kilshannig in 1612, and besides the preferments above mentioned, held in 1634, the curacy of Morneabbey. He was plundered by the rebels in 1641, and lost his church livings, worth £50 per annum. [MS. T.C.D. F. 2. 18.]

The family of Robert Phaire, one of the persons to whom was directed the warrant for the execution of Charles I., settled in Ireland. Colonel Phaire was appointed by Cromwell to be Governor of Cork in 1651; and in 1660 was sent prisoner to London, but saved his life by means of LORD CLANCARTY. He was afterwards concerned in a plot for seizing Dublin Castle, and again escaped punishment. He died near Cork, and was buried, as is recorded in Smith's Cork [Vol. i., p. 205], in the Anabaptist burying ground in that city.

Colonel Phaire married Elizabeth, dau. of SIR THOMAS HERBERT, knight, and mentions in his will, proved in Dublin in 1682, four sons, Onesiphorus, Alexander, Thomas, and John; and five daughters, Elisabeth, wife of Richard Farmar; Mary, wife of George Gamble; Frances, Lucy, and Elisabeth. He is described as of Grange, co. Cork, in the barony of Barretts.

The will of his widow was dated 27th January, 1697, and was proved at Cork, on 7th Nov., 1698. She is described as of "Grange, in ye barony of Barretts." She wishes to be buried "neere my dearly beloved husbant, Coll' Robert Phaire, deceased." She bequeathes to her "sonn," Henry Phaire, plate and other articles, viz., "my chaire with wheels, my charrett and all ye harness"—"a bond of two hundred pounds yt I lent to my son-in-law, Bartholomew Pordon, and all my garrons wt. other housould stuff." She mentions her daughters, "Lucy fflower, and Elisabeth Pordon;" her sons, Alexander Herbert Phaire, John Phaire, and Thomas Phaire, the sole executor. She leaves to her children whatever "profett may be had out of ye iron works." She mentions also her "cozen," James Peiver. The overseers of the will are Abraham Morriss, of Cork; and Robert Peiver, of Ballygronans. The witnesses are E. Wetenhall and Ben Tartarian. The seal attached to this document bears "a cross mouline, debruised by a bend, impaling three lions rampant." Among the Cloyne marriage bonds is one dated 1692, for marriage between Thomas Phaire, of Grange, and Elisabeth Purdon, of Ballyclogh.

Of the issue above-mentioned of Colonel Phaire, three (Onesiphorus, Mrs. Elisabeth Farmer, and Mrs. Mary Gamble) were children by a former wife, not named in the will. Onesiphorus was of Grange, and died circa 1702, leaving by his wife, Elisabeth, two sons—Robert and Aldworth, and a daughter, Elisabeth, wife of Edward Rogers, and after his death, wife of Onesiphorus Gamble. Of the sons, Aldworth, the younger, died Sp., and Robert, the elder, was of Grange, and died circa 1712, leaving issue by his wife, Anne Gamble (besides a daughter, Elisabeth, and a younger son, Robert), an elder son, Onesiphorus, who was of Templeshannon, county Wexford, and died in 1757, having had issue by his wife, Frances, dau. of Rev. Dr. John Patrickson, four children—Robert, who married Lady Richarda Annesley; Aldworth; Polly-Anne, wife of Henry Nixon, of Newtown; and Elisabeth.

The eldest son of Colonel Phaire, by the second marriage, was Thomas Phaire, esq., of Mount Pleasant. He married Alicia or Elisabeth, dau. of Bartholomew Purdon, esq., senior, of Ballyclogh, and had issue five sons and two daughters. The sons were—Robert, of Grange, died circa 1742; Herbert; Thomas, died circa 1748; Onesiphorus; and Francis. The daughters were—Elisabeth, wife of Richard Chinnery; and Alicia.

Michael had three sons, of whom the youngest, Richard, was the father of SIR RICHARD COX, Lord Chancellor of Ireland; the second, Jasper, was Alderman of Youghal, and died circa 1663, leaving by his wife, Mary, two sons, John and Jasper; and two daughters, Margaret and Anne. 1789. July 29. WILLIAM NESBITT, A.M., R. V. Kilmahon. [F.F.]

W. Nesbitt (son, probably of Rev. Wm. Nesbitt, of Athy, county Kildare, who died in 1740), entered T.C.D. on 1st May, 1741, being then seventeen years old.

He was from 1768 to 1799, R. Stackallen, Gernonstown, and Dunmoe, Meath; and from 1789 to 1799, R. V. Kilmahon. In his will, dated 16th Dec., 1797, and proved in Dublin, 18th April, 1799, he is called the Rev. William Nesbitt, of Drogheda.

1799. March 13. THOMAS CARSON, R. V. Kilmahon. [F.F.]

Mr. Carson seems, from the following letter addressed to him by Bishop Bennet, to have required a faculty to hold Clondulane and Kilmahon together. His opinion seems to have been highly valued by his Lordship on other matters. This letter of the Bishop is now in the possession of Mr. Carson's descendant, the Dean of Kilmore. It is dated from Dublin, 17th March, 1800.

"DEAR CARSON,

"The expense of a faculty is very serious, and the danger of objecting to the title by which you hold your present parishes not imminent at present, so that I am inclined to advise you to wait till you think you have more pressing necessity.

"The questions you ask depending on the union, and the wording of the Act of Union itself, make it impossible at present to give a precise answer to them; but I apprehend the Irish laws previous to the union will still bind the Irish Church, unless expressly repealed by the Imperial Parliament. The nature of the connexion in the clerical line is now before Sir Wm. Scot to give his opinion on it.

"In order to answer the latter part of your letter, which I fear I cannot do exactly to your wishes, I must, in perfect dependence on your secrecy and honour, enter more than I am apt to do into the plan I have of disposing of Dr. Atterbury's preferments, in case it should be my lot to outlive him.

"My intention has been to separate the Chantership from the great union of Clonmell; to settle Austin in the latter, and Hingston in the former; in which case the plan you mention of uniting Kilmahon, Churchtown, and Bohillane, might in time take effect; but of late Mr. Mapletoft seems to have wished to give up Castletown for Atterbury's preferment, and then no separation would take place.

"But though either of these schemes shuts the door to your advancement, there are other passages equally broad left open. Dr. King's living was valued in 1796, at upwards of £900; and as that preferment would be more than equivalent for both yours, it would probably be a great object to you. Circumstances make me wish at present for two livings, such as you now hold, to dispose of; and though I would not be understood to make an actual promise, the chance of King's living furnishes an additional reason for you not to be too hasty in applying for a faculty to hold your present parishes.

"I feel happy in the gratitude you express for such services as I have been able to render you; and shall I confess also that I have always thought myself obliged by your expressing your dislike to my leaving the country in 1796? I wish we had talked over the reasons for and against it: there were many on both sides, and I knew too much of the state of the country for my own comfort—the same knowledge of which poor Dodge, so fatally for himself, partook with me. So apt, however, is the world to judge by the event, that the same mouths which were opened against me for quitting my diocese in 1796 were extended to the full as wide against Bishop Stock for not quitting his when the same enemy came in 1798. The Primate too, in 1798, followed my example in quitting Armagh at the first report of a landing, as did poor Stock and his whole family on the second appearance of the French frigates in the bay of Killalla. They knew by experience to what dreadful distress they exposed themselves. I knew it by anticipation. Besides, all my money was at Dublin, and I had a very numerous family to feed, who were to have left the country ten days after. I thought at the time that all travelling would soon become impracticable, as it did in 1798, and that as it was determined to give up the county of Cork to the enemy, it was better for me to prevent the misery of so terrible a retreat, and that ten days sooner or later made no difference. Providence saved us; and therefore the world in general blamed me. I have even myself since thought I was too precipitate; but I doubt whether I should have thought so at the moment of danger. At any rate it was kind of you to suggest your doubts, and I have endeavoured to be grateful for the advice.

"I am, dear Sir, yours very truly, ham or Luccombe, in Somersetshire, by his wife Anne, or Agnes, dau. of Henry Yewings or Ewens, of Capton, in the parish of Stogumber, Taunton), was born in 1584, and when sixteen years old, matriculated at Exeter College, Oxford, on 31st Oct., 1600, and in 1601 was chosen Demy, at Magdalen College, whence he graduated B.A. on 12th June, 1603, and M.A. on 13th July, 1607.

Having resigned his Demyship in 1610, he was ordained Priest by William, Bp. of Oxford, on 1st April, 1612.

He was, from 1612 to 1625, V. Dulverton, diocese of Bath and Wells; and having resigned that living in favour of his brother, he became, in 1627, Precentor of Cloyne, which he held until his death in 1639. He was also, from 1628 to 16—? V. Litter; from 16—? to 1631, V. Ballygourney; from 1632 to 1639, V. Castlelyons; from 1638 to 1639, R. Bretway; and from 17th April, 1639, to his death in June, 1639, P. Clashmore, Lismore.

He married, on 22nd July, 1613, at Walton, Elisabeth (dau. of Rev. Antony Eaglesfield, Rector of Walton-cum-street, Bath and Wells, and Prebendary of Wells), by whom he had issue six sons and five daughters.

He died at Kilwillan (Killavullan), about the 6th June, 1639, and was buried in the church of Castlelyons.

His relict, Elisabeth, suffered in the rebellion of 1641, as appears from the depositions now in T.C.D. Library, from the "despoiled and impoverished Protestants."

His eldest son, Lawrence, was a "Cornet of Horse" in the garrison at Youghal in 1644, and was one of "the 1649 officers," who signed the Remonstrance to the Duke of York.

William, the second son, was born at Luccombe, in England, and was educated at Lismore. He entered T.C.D. as a Fellow Commoner, on 24th May, 1639, being then eighteen years old, but after his father's death entered the army. He was a Captain of Horse at the siege of Bridgewater in 1644, and in February of that year was mentioned as having, by his loyal conduct, defeated an attempt of the rebels to gain over the garrison by bribery. He was promoted to the rank of major; but being forced, with the rest of the gallant defenders of that place, to surrender himself a prisoner of war in 1645, he withdrew to Barbadoes, with other unfortunate adherents of the royal cause. Major William Byam, at Barbadoes, was "Master of the Ordnance, and Treasurer of the Island," and soon after was compelled to leave Barbadoes for Surinam, of which place he was chosen Governor, and where he remained until the Dutch fleet in 1666 took possession of that place, which was finally ceded to the Dutch in 1667. William, now General, Byam, next settled at Antigua, where he died in 1670, in the forty-eighth year of his age, leaving three sons, for whom vide Burke's L. G.: BYAM, of ANTIGUA, and of SOMERSETSHIRE.

1745. In this year was founded the "Moyallow Loyal Irish Protestant Society," of which the following account is taken from the original book of that association, now in the possession of ROBERT COLE BOWEN, esq., J.P., of Bowenscourt, in the parish of Farrahy. It is a neatly bound paper manuscript; the first page or two being a copy only, but authenticated by the handwriting of the Rev. James Hingston, who was a Vice-President of that society, and seems to have acted as Secretary.

The society which was commenced on 4th Nov., 1745, "at the house of the Widow Callaghan, at Moyallow," had for its object to concert measures for the mutual security of its members, and for the defence of his Majesty King George and his government, then imperilled by "a horrid and most unnatural rebellion" carried on in Scotland, "by Papists and other disaffected persons," in favour of a Popish Pretender. Every Friday was the day of meeting, at the house above-mentioned; and absent members were to be fined one British shilling. The first members were as follow:—Mat. Deane, Richd. Newman, John Dillon, Adam Newman, Arthr. Lysaght, Phil. Oliver, Hen. Wallis, John Conry, William Norcot, Jon' Welstead, John Oliver, Jonas Stawel, Dodsworth Mitchel, Lawrence Maguire, Thos. How, Thos. Meuth, Edwd. Conyers, James Grace, Daniel Riordan, Robt. Philpot, Hugh Coggin, Robert Houston, Geo. Chinnery, John Bunbury, Jas. Hingston, John Bond, John Lombard, Matt Ottiwell, John Longfield, Will Mockler, Robt. Groove, Will Babington, Hen. Stamer, Henry C. Bowen, Jas. Smyth, Dan. Swayne, St. Leger Aldworth, Henry Wrixon, Geo. Purdon, Owen Wynne, Jas. Cotter, Nehem. Donnellan, and Joseph Gabbett.

The Rev. Mr. Meuth was the Treasurer, and all fines except those for absence were to be given by him to the Protestant poor of Mallow. The members were to wear on all days of meeting an orange cockade in their hats, and were to take, on admission, oaths of loyalty and abjuration of the Pretender, and to profess disbelief in transubstantiation.

On 20th Dec., 1745, the club resolve to recommend Richd. Newman, esq., to the Lord Lieutenant for an independent troop of dragoons. On May 9, 1746, the club resolve to meet but once a month for the future, and also agree "that the sum of two pounds five shillings and six pence be paid by the Treasurer to any person or persons that shall, within three calendar months from the date hereof, apprehend James Quinlan, of this town, indicted at the last quarter sessions for assaulting the wife of Dory, the gunsmith," &c. It was also agreed to pay £1 2*s.* 9*d.* to any person who shall, within the same period, "set George Hasset, butcher, deserter from Genl. Whitchet's, now Bligh's Regiment of Dragoons, and give notice of the same to the military officer commanding in Mallow."

On 2nd Dec., 1755, after a long recess, the society agree to meet monthly at the houses alternately of James Magrath and William Cooly. They resolve that no member shall pay more for his ordinary and wine or other liquor than 3*s.* 9½*d.*, "nor shall more than one bottle of wine or a like proportion of other liquor be allowed each member."

On May 11, 1756, "Whereas at the last general assizes held for the county of Corke, John Lott, of Carrigoon, near Mallow, taylor, was capitally convicted for robbery and burglary, and ordered for execution on Saturday, the first day of this instant. And whereas the said Lott was not hanged till he was dead, according to his sentence, but is now alive, hath been seen by numbers of persons, and is lurking about the neighbourhood of Carrigoon aforesaid:—This society doth agree to give a reward of five pounds sterling to any person or persons who shall, within three calendar months from the date hereof, apprehend and lodge the said Lott in any of his Majesty's gaols in this kingdom."

On 8th June, 1756, it was "agreed for the time to come that no raffling, wageing, or any kind of hazardous gameing, be on any account whatsoever admitted at any meeting of this society, and that any person who shall hereafter propose any such raffling, wageing, or hazardous gameing, shall forfeit one dozen of wine, and such proposal shall be utterly and to all intents and purposes not complied with."

On 9th Nov., 1756, it was agreed that the club meet for the future alternately at the houses of Mr. Magrath and of Mr. Richard Large, at the New Inn.

On 14th Feb., 1758, "Whereas by an act of this society, dated the 17th March last, it was ordered that all fines for absence, after payment of the respective houses (i.e. for dinners), should be laid up as a fund for aiding such poor people as should be bound over to the assizes for the prosecution of felons and compounders of felony, and not be able to bear their expenses at the assizes, &c. And whereas no application hath been made to this society for the purposes aforesaid :"—it is now agreed that the said fine hitherto paid be applied to the purchasing one silver medal for each of the members, to be worn by them publickly, appendant to an orange ribbon. The Treasurer is empowered to contract for forty of those medals, and the members are invited to suggest devices and mottoes, it being decided that one inscription shall refer to Nov. 4, 1745, the day of the first institution of this society.

Beyond what is above stated, no business whatever seems to have been done by this society, excepting the levying of fines for absence. The last meeting recorded in the book from which these extracts are taken was held on 9th Dec., 1760, NORRISS JEPHSON being Vice-President.

The rectory of Great Witley, Worcestershire, was formerly in the possession of this family. Alan Clyffe, and his son, Alan Cliffe, were Rectors of that parish. William Cliffe, son of the latter Alan, and of Jane Cooke, his wife, was born in 1597; and by his wife Catherine, dau. of Henry Bright, a Prebendary of Worcester, had issue a third son, Henry, of Mathon, county Hereford, who married Mary, dau. of Henry Meredith, of Hereford, and had issue two sons, Robert and Allen Cliffe. This latter Allen had a son, Allen, whose son Henry had issue a son, William, born in 1742, who by his wife, Anne, dau. of Rev. Henry Colet, of Tewkesbury, Worcestershire (a descendant of Dean Colet, the founder of St. Paul's), had issue a son, Rev. Allen Cliffe, of Mathon House, Herefordshire, who married Eliza, dau. of Colonel Joseph Deane, of Terenure, M.P. for county Dublin, and had issue, inter alios, a second son, Rev. A. R. By her he had issue four sons—Urban, Thomas, George; and Bartholomew, who was born at Bishop's Tawton, Devonshire, and when nineteen years old entered T.C.D., on 23rd May, 1663. This Bartholomew Vigors was, from 1667 to 1681, V. Tacumshane, Ferns; and in 1690 became Bishop of Ferns and Leighlin.

The Rev. Urban Vigors died in or before 1652. On 11th September, 1652, Catherine, relict of Urban Vigors, took out letters of administration to his will.

"REVEREND SIR,

"My humble service, &c., I have sent you, according to promise upon Thursday last, a brevial of the proceedings going forward of the service of Mounster, in the kingdome of Ireland, your brother, Cornett Joanes, and myselfe being comrades, and serving under the command of the Right Honorable Roger, Lord

Baron of Broghill, myselfe being also his Lordship's Chapline. I have sent you likewise a catalogue of the names of some of the chief commanders and approved souldiers in that province, with the names also of many castles in the county of Corke, which are in the Protestantes possession, and those that are in the Rebles, and what strength they are of; and I have here inserted and sent to you a copie of the Lord of Muskerrie's letter to the Earle of Barrimore, wherein hee doth persuade his honour to consort himselfe with his Lordship, the which hee doth defy, for I know the Earl to be a man that doth abhor and detest his Lordship, and the Lord Roche's insurrection and desperate attempt, and wisheth evill success unto their rebellious designes, for hee is one 'quem Titan finxit meliore luto'—ffirst concerning our Service.

"The Rebles entering into the province of Mounster, committing great spoyle in their march, Sir William Saint Leger, knight, Lord President of the said province, with 200 horse, Fryday, 3rd of December, kilt 200 of them between Clonemell and Waterford, beside a great number that were drowned; many prisoners were then taken, whereof 40ty of the Ringleaders were hanged at the citty of Waterford the Monday following.

"Thursday, the seventh of December.—My Lord President gave me notice the Rebles had robbed the Lord Arch Bishop of Cashell, and driven away his Grace's cattle and flock from his Pallace of Cosmis, made after them, and found some of the said cattle in the bawne of a gentleman not far from Cashell, whereuppon his Lordship caused the Rebles houses to be fired, and sent the gentleman to Clonemell gayle, after which time wee were indifferent quiett, until Baron Loghmore and Captain Graves souldiers came into our company and stole the cattle and pillaged as they went, their stealthes and villanyes they committed were commonly in the night for the most part; most of their armes were halfe pike, and sleanes. Not long after their coming in this theivish kind of way, but most of the Papists in our barony of Cundans consorted themselves with them and robbed their next neighbours, and killed such as did withstand them without any regard of former intamatory of love, or tyes of favours don them and anncient acquaintance; which made all the Protestants in those partes to fly to castles for the safety of their p.sons and lives, or run away to some Port Towne, or to the next strength adjoining, and leave all they had with them.

"My honourable Lord, the Lord of Broghill aforesaid, hearing of these cow-stealers, and the cruelty of the Cundans, sent his troop of horse amongst them; but we could not make any great execution at that tyme by reason of command which came the next day (being the first day of February), from our honourable generall, the Lord President aforesaid, to meet at Kildorrary, in Sir William Ffenton's country, where all the English force and strength of the county of Corke were in field (but those that lay in garrison) ready to encounter with the Lord Mungarrett, Don Boyne, Castle Connell, Ikerin, Baron Loghmore, and their great army of Rebles.

"We continued in the field at Kildorrary aforesaid two dayes and two nights, expecting their coming, according to promise, and their many threatenings, but they did not dare to come to us, or fight with us then, for wee had a daynty champion country, which doth much antipathize their cowardly natures; they fight and deale altogether upon advantages, they will have woods and boggs to second them, or they will not fight can they any way shun it.

"They marched to the towne of Kilmallock, in the county of Limbricke, where I heard the Lord Mungarrett was lovingly received by the townsmen, with the rest of his discontented gentlemen, for they used the English very coursely that lived in those partes, and others that had occasion to deale and commerse with them.

"The third day of February the Lord President, the Earle of Barrimore, the Lord of Dungarvane, my Lord of Broghill, and Sir William Courtney, marched towards the Redshard to have given the enemy a meeting. The Redshard is the receptacle for the Rebles of those partes; it is as dangerous a place for woods and boggs as any in Ireland; it lyeth in Sir Edward FitzHarris his country, not farre from the towne of Kilmallock.

"The aforesaid Lords, sir, to my own knowledge, went with a full intent and purpose to have given the Reble's great army a crash; and I dare say they had, had our armyes mett that day, for they are lords of most noble mindes and couragious spirritts; their very names are a mighty terror unto the Rebles; they are all four of them approved souldiers; they will endure much hardnesse, cold, and hunger, for they did lye in the ffield without any tentes in snow, frost, rayne, hayle, and all weathers; excellent they are in managing their horses —the very Rebles acknowledge that; and they say they had rather encounter and fight with three troupes of horse that should come newly into the land, than with one of these Lord's troupes, for their troopes, and Sir William Courtney's troupe, have given thousands of them their due desertes since the tyme they did first rebell.

"Our lying at Kildorrary, I observed in my Lord President that I cannot omit, his Lordship lying in the field, having no pillow but the ground, a gentleman presented his cloake unto him beseeching his Honor to be pleased to rest his arme uppon it; he refused it, wishing him to keep it for himselfe, the weather was very cold, and for his own part he was better acquainted with such a kind of lyfe than he was; the gentleman was easily p.suaded to leave his complament at that tyme, for there was not the like day of snow all last winter; my Lord, indeed, sir, is of a very noble and loving disposition unto his souldiers, and likewise are the other three Lords. As for my honorable good Lord, I am confident your brother, the Coronett, hath written unto you of his noble, and sweete, and kinde caryage towards us, therefore I pretaint? to speake or write any more in that p.ticular.

"Friday, the fourth day of February.—the Lord President, hearing that the Lord Mungarrett intended, with his army, to come to his Lordship's towne of Dunnarayle, his Lordship caused our army to march to the mountayne's foote, alias Ballihoura, three miles from the said towne to the north, to prevent their coming; wee quartered there that night, Satturday, and Sunday night; Munday, the seventh day of Ffebruary, my Lord, seeing their delayes were but to get armes and ammunition, and a strong party, marched towards the towne of Kilmallock, and plundered the countrey, for they were most Rebells in those partes. The Lord Mungarrett kept close in the towne, and dared not fight with us. We could at that tyme have made up but a thousand armed men, besides our troopes of horse; we had made a period of Mungarrett's Rebellion, and of all those that were then out in the countyes of Corke and Limbricke; wee, seeing wee could do no execution uppon them, returned to our old quarters. There was good service done in our marche by our scoutes, and by the Provost-Marshall, Captayne Peasely, and his horse.

"Sir John Brown, knight, Lieue-tennant Carleton, and my selfe, with four other gentlemen, which did ride abroad as scoutes to discover the enemy, took prisoner Miles FitzHarris, esquire, and his man, as they were riding to Kilmallock unto the Lord of Mungarrett, who had sent for him to have made him governor of the said towne, as did appear by his Lordship's letter, which was found in FitzHarris his pockett; was found also with him the articles and covenants which the Priests and ffryars sweare the people to observe and mayntayne to the losse of their goods and lives; I know you have seen a copy of these, therefore I forbear to mention them; hee being a little threatened by some of our company, promised threescore pound for his ransome, the which he sent his man personally for unto his castle; it was very welcome, for money was very scarce amongst us, but my Lord President coming presently up with the army, and hearing FitzHarris his answere, truely waying the cause, and his former caryage and service since the rebellion of others in the country, upon his faythfull promise then made of his future loyalty, caused the said money to be restored, and sett him free.

"Two days after FitzHarris setting at liberty, the Lord Mungarrett and his great army, the like whereof was never seen in Mounster, came unto us at Ballahoura aforesaid, and in their marche tooke the Castles of Ballahey, and Dod's Castle was yielded to them uppon quarter, for which the Lord President was highly offended with the counstable of the said castle, but his Lordship is mercifull to all Protestants, though he much hates a coward.

"The first of Mungarrett's huge multitude, and many pikes, which made as great a show as a spacious wood adjoyning to them, nothing daunted the aforesaid Lords and Captaynes, nor any of their troupers, for I protest unto you there was not a man in our army but had a desire to have fought with them, and the rather because wee expected them long and suffered many of us much want, yet I dare say they were twenty for one; odds enough they had, yet they dust not descend the hill, and come unto us in the playne, where wee did encamp not much above muskett shott from them; we had not any of our foot companyes in the field that day—they were all in the towne of Mallow, five miles from our campe, to which place my Lord President thought good to make his repayre, it being almost night, and the countrey people were flocking into Mungarrett's army.

"When we came to Donnorayle, my Lord President left Lieue-tennant John Downing to keep and defend the castle, with fifty shott, which kept it faythfully (Lieue-tennant Downing is a stout p.y. (i.e. pretty) man, and one that hath don good service). We made no other stay, but presently marched on our way to Mallow, where we quartered that night.

"The next day my Lord President, with his troupe, the Lord of Dungarvane, and some of the foote companyes, marched to the citty of Corke; his Lordship thought it the best policy to make good the port Townes and strong Holds.

"The Earle of Barrimore, with his troupe, my Lord of Broghill's troupe, and the remaynder of the foote companyes, marched towards the port towne of Youghall, and did save at Mallow, for Mr. William Dampeere, and for the English in those partes, what cattle wee could, and brought them with us to the Earle of Barrimore's Castle, at Castle Lyons. The next day the companyes that marched to Yoghall drove them there, and relieved the towne beside; many of them were transported from this kingdom, which I conceive to be an act of charity in the said Earle, and ought highly to be commended.

"My Lord's troupe marched home to Lismore. Within four or five dayes wee came home, newes was brought unto my Lord that the Rebles of Cundan's countrey had robbed and pillaged divers of our neighbourhood, whereuppon his Lordship was very much displeased, and caused fifty horse and thirty musketeers to be made ready; and he rode in p.son to their place of rendavouze. When wee came neare Lieue-tennant Poore's castle wee descryde a troupe of horse, to the number of threescore or more thereabout, wee made up unto them with all speed, but they tooke the advantage of the ground, and kept under a quicksett hedge, and placed some musketeers in a ditch adjoining, which made some few shott unto us, but did us no hurt; we no sooner came over the said ditch but we perceaved twelve coulers, no souldiers with them but the Ensignes; their army lay at the bottom of the hill, but uppon notice given them of our approach, they suddenly made up unto their coulers (for they are nimble, swift footmen; they usually march as fast as their horse). As soon as they came unto their coulers they fell into rankes and files, and made as neat and warlike a body as ever Rebles did make in Ireland for the quantity of men they had. Their number of foote was 1,500, well armed, beside the country people that followed the army. My Lord charged them home, and made their horse retreat unto their foote; their army durst not advance a long time, seeing his Lordship's stout resolution, by which means we saved our foote.

"At length, Colonell or Captaine Butler came out from the army, and desired to parlee with us, whereuppon a gentleman of our troupe, one Smithy, roade unto him, and as soon as he came neare Butler asked him when my Lord did intend to give them battle, hee made answer hee could not resolve him, but hee thought it was a very unreasonable motion, considering our handful of men unto their multitude; and he made known unto him that my Lord, when hee came forth, was informed they were but a company of cow-stealers, and had hee any way known of their great army hee would have come better provided, yet hee thought we were able to encounter with them, and so departed from him, only telling him it was his best course to return home with his army the way hee came, and hee doubted not but Mr. Gerrald, of Coolesshine, would furnish them with boates to carry them over the Blackwater, and entertayne them as formerly. Butler made answer that was not their intent; they came not over to that end; but hee did hope they would do better service before they did depart the countrey. My Lord, uppon Smythye's returne and answere, had a full intent to have fought with them, but his Lordship was p.suaded to the contrary by some noblemen of the company, and the Portriffe of the town of Lismoreene, Bryan Cavernor, an honest, religious man, and one that hates Popery.

"That night the enemy marched to the towne of Tollow; the next day they sett about the taking of a strong house, called Ballianker, in which house was a gentleman, one Croker, and his wife, with three or four men more; they defended it manfully untill their powder and shott was spent; they killed and wounded many of the Rebells; but seeing they could no longer mayntayne fires with them, yeelded uppon quarter; but Captayne Ffennell most p.fidiously caused the said Croker the next day to be shott in could bloud, as they say, and the poore men to hang each other in a field adjoining to the said house, which I think all marshall men and souldiers will iudge to be a most barborous, inhumane act; therefore, I cannot but note him with a black cole, though a discontented gentleman, as hee termes himself.

"The day following they besieged us at Lismore, but in the morning before their coming there came four companyes uppon the other side of us, which took boate at Affane. Corporal Ffoucks, and some other of our troupe which were out abroad as scoutes, discovered them, and not knowing of their number of men, but thinking they had been onely but cow-stealers and pillagers, made up unto them, and discharged at Captayne ffennell, hee bringing up their army, or rather raged regiment, and ffennell likewise unto him; in the sqirmish ffennell's horse was shott, whereuppon word was brought to the towne that Corporal Ffourks was kil'd. Coronett Downing hearing of it lead some few other gentlemen, they presently made unto them. The Coronett being a bold man, and of a very forward spiritt, roade up close to Ffennell, and discharged his carbine at him; Ffennell having gotten a fresh horse, hee mist him; but, as the Coronett wheeled about, one of Ffennell's choyce shott, an old fowler, which did usually runne by his horse side, with his fowling piece, shott him in the back through his armour and body, which made him presently fall from his horse. Your brother, Coronett Joanes, that now is in his place, seeing him fall, shott at Captayne Ffennell, and likewise hee at him againe; they made two or three shott each to other; your brother having discharged his carbine and pistolls, unsheathed his sword, and challenged the Captayne to fight with him, when the shott from their army came flying about his eares; but their great Captaine refused it, and retreated to the army. Your brother brought off the Coronett's horse in despite of them all; there was one of our men more kil'd in the fight; their corps could not possibly be brought of by us, they played so fast upon us with their shott.

"What number of men were kil'd one their side wee could not learne, in regard they were masters of the ffield.

"That night they quartered in the schoole-house and the alms-house of Lismore, and in other houses in the towne, which were out and free from shott of the castle. Their centinells which were in the church-yard had a welcome with some shot from a turrett of the castle.

"The next day a gentleman, one Bayline, came to the castle with a drummer before him, and made known unto my Lord that his Generall's pleasure was, that his Honor would be pleased to surrender the castle unto him before such tyme as there was any great effusion of blood made; for his full intent and purpose was to have it; and if his Lordship would yield it up quietly, he should have a safe convoy for himself, and for all such as did belong unto him to Yoghall, or Corke, or unto any other Porte Towne in the Province.

"My Lord told him he was not acquainted with such kind of languadge, and that, for his own parte, hee was resolved to live and dye in the Castle, and hee thought all the men he had would doe the like in defending and mayntayning it against his pretended Generall and all others that could assault it, and wished him to take that for an absolute answere; so Mr. Bayline only drank three or four glasses of wine and aquavite, and departed.

"My Lord is a vigilant man; hee placed good guards and strong watch upon every place of the Castle and Courte, and none but such as were men of trust; and likewise upon every quarter of the Garden and Gate, though his Lordship watched himselfe three nights together, encouraging his souldiers, and seeing they might not want things fitting, nor any of the poor people of the Towne and Countrey which came to the Castle for the safety of their lives.

"My honourable Lady was newly brought to bedd of a child, otherwise, I dare say, she would likewise have watched in person; for she is a lady that truly fears God, abhors and detests Rebles, and I know but few men in the land will shoot off a fowling peece better or neerer the marke than her Ladyship.

"My Lord was not forgetfull of the dead corps of Coronett Downing, but sent his Trumpeter, one John Downing, and others, to the enemyes army for it. They gave leave for the bringing of it to the Towne, but wished withall that no minister should bury him, for hee dyed one of their Religion, a Roman Catholic, wherein I am p'suaded, and partly know, they wronged him highly, for he had, at the very first shott, his death wound, and after that he was not sensible of anything they said or did unto him. I buried him in the Cathedral Church of Lismore, and as he was layed into the ground, he had a volley of shott given him by our soldiers in the church-yard, mauger the eares of those proud Popish priests and Rebles that quartered in the Towne.

"Captayne Broadrige, who is Captayne of the Castle under my Lord, is a man of an undaunted spirritt, a faithfull, honest man, and one that hath acted the part of a brave commander, especially when the Rebels were in the Towne. Your brother, the Coronett, and hee are intimate, loving friends. I think you knew him, therefore I forbear to write any more of him at this tyme.

"My Lord, sir, being both young and active, thought of a way to fight this domaneering, yet cowarde, and fearfull army. The way was this:—Hee caused all the ordnance, murderers, harquebusses, muskets, carbines, and pistolls, that were in the Castle to be shott off at once, and with the same sent them word by a man home (whom) my Lord did most confide in, that the English army was come to the Towne, for we heard they had intercepted the Earle of Corke's letters, which his Lordship sent, of the landing at Youghall of Colonell Lanester. This sudden noise and thundering shott did strike such terror into the heartes of those guilty and wicked persons, that they presently furdled up their coulors, and runne away to the Blackwater to take boate at Affane, where they came over for the most part of them; many runne a contrary way. I believe they never saw theire coulors again; but this day we pursued them with fifty horse or thereabouts, and killed many of them, and many wee tooke prisoners, who had very bad musketts and pikes. The Captayne of the last company that tooke boate, one Prendergrace, escaped us very narrowly; he left his stately mantle behind him, and was fayne to trust to his nimble heeles, that commonly proved their best defence. I heartily wish wee had a considerable number of men there for their sakes. We took from them two hundred and fifty head of cattle, most of them were oxen and cowes of the English breed; we took also six or seven hundred sheepe, a great many horses and garrons, all which they had stolen in the country from Englishmen. You might the next day have bought in Lismore a good cowe for eighteen pence, a garron for five pence, and a sheepe for three pence. We took likewise their wagons, and a number of scaling ladders, that five or six at once might go up abreast; they are in the Castle at Lismore at this day. And thus, by the Providence of God, as the primary efficient, and the forecast and manhood of this honorable Lord, the subordinate instrument, the Rebles were shamefully chased away, the Castle preserved, and many hundreds of poore people, women and children for the most part, that did fly there for succour, escaped their furey, and not so much as one of them hurted.

"The next day wee did make them sensible of their errors in the Towne and Countrey that did consort themselves with them.

"Within five or six dayes wee had put those Rebles to flight, newes came unto my Lord that the Lord President, the Earl of Barrimore, the Lord of Dungarvane, Sir William Courtney, Colonell Lanester, and what forces could well be spared from the Port Townes and Castles, would all meet at Lismore the second day of March, and so quarter there that night, and the next day march to the Towne of Dungarvan, which was p'formed accordingly.

"My Lord road to Castle Lyons to meet the Lord President, and brought his Lordship home with him, which was taken very loveingly, and in good part. Uppon our march between Lismore and Castle Lyons theire were killed divers of the Rebles. Wee took the Castle of Turbeath, which Mr. Richard Cundane had formerly taken from Mr. Osborne's servantes, and burnt all the houses in Cundane's countrey and this side of the Blackwater; there were also taken some few prisoners. Most of the gentlemen of the countrey were at the Towne of Killurd, alias Fleetewood plantation, uppon the other side of the water.

"Wednesday, the third day of March, wee, our army, marched from Lismore towards the Towne of Dungarvane, killed some in the way, took many prisoners, and burnt all the Cabins in the Countrey. My Lord President's troupe and my Lord's troope marched some 4 or 5 miles before the army. When we came near Sir Richard Osborne's Castle, about three miles from Dungarvane, wee saw seven companyes with their coulors displayed, nigh opposite unto us, only a river between us and a little bogg. Wee made all possible speede we could to a ford to gett over the river that wee might gett before them, to keep them from marching home to the Towne; but they marched an exceeding fast pace, insomuch that wee were no sooner in the ford but they were within muskett shott of us, and discharged at us. The river was so deep that our horses were enforced to swime. Wee seeing what advantage they had of us, wheeled about, and came forth out of the river, and galloped up to another foorde a mile from it, and passed over safe before such time as they could make unto us. They seeing wee had gotten before them, fell into a body, close by a woodside, a little more than muskett shott of us. Wee braved each other awhile; at length wee made towards them. They seeing our carbines all ported, and my Lord and Captayne Bridge's colonesse, and discrying with all our army, presently furdled up their coulors, and fled with all haste towards the passage of Yoghall, and to caves in the wood. There were many of them taken and killed in their flight, and many more theire had byn had not the woods and boggs byn their especiall friends.

"That night the Lord President and the rest of the Lords lay at Sir Richard Osborne's Castle, and our army quartered betweene the Castle and the towne. Our scoutes took, that night, a gentleman and his man, which were riding to Dungarvane, but hanging prevented them.

"Thursday morning being the 4th day of March, our army, between eight and nine of the clock, came close before the towne of Dungarvane. Wee took it within three hours fight, and burned most of the houses which were theatched, and burnt likewise a stately stone house, well slatted, of one Mr. Hoares, adjoining to the towne. There were divers gentlemen and others that escaped over the strand a horseback, the water being then fordable, for it was the beginning of the floud.

"My Lord President p'ceeveing it, caused a squadron of the best shott to make to the strand with all haste, which killed many of the Rebles, notwithstanding many escaped, where-uppon my Lord caused a party of horse of every troupe to be chosen out, to ride to the other side of the river, and burne the Towne uppon that side, and kill as many as came over; wee were forty horse uppon that service. Captayne George Welch, who is now in this citty, was with us, and behaved himself valiantly, and did good service to my owne knowledge, for I was an eye-witness unto it. Wee burned the towne on that side the strand according unto our directions. There were killed by our party of horse some fifty, and I think there were killed and hanged the like number on the other side of the Towne, and in the towne were many killed, which were thrown into the sea. There is not any one man, I dare say, can tell certainly how many were killed and drowned; some say 200, some 300, and some 400, but I am of the opinion 200 were the most that were slayne. At night our forty horse returned to the towne one the other side, and quartered there; those that were in the Castle stood out, and shott at us; they killed 4 of our men, and hurted three or four more, that was all the lost and hurt one our side. Sir John Browne was shot from the Castle through the coat in many places with slugs and quarter shott, yet hurted not his body. Hee is a daynty brave-spirited gentleman, and one the Rebles do much dread.

"Saturday morning, the 6th of March, they yeelded the Castle in the towne, to depart uppon this quarter, to march away like souldiers, their coulors flying, and their bagpipes before them, the which was granted them, and p'formed accordingly. My Lord was noble in his promises, and would not take an example by their kind of quarter, but I believe they had not had so good quarter could wee have gotten any good place to have quartered our horses in, they could not have stood out long, for our shott kept them from water. They that were in the Castle and the other side of the towne had quarter to depart only with their lives and wearing cloathes. There was great store of pillage taken in the Towne by our souldiers, and a good quantity of excellent Spanish Iron, which was brought about to Yoghall in Mr. William's pinnace. The same day the Castles were yeelded wee returned to Lismore with victory and spoyle, and we burned all the Rebles corne in our march that was in those partes, and killed many of the Rogues that were their spyes in the countrey.

"Six or seven of our troupes that went foorth in morning as scoutes and to burne some cabins, mett with some pillage; the enemy surprized them, and killed two or three of them.

Lieur-tunnant Poore, with eight or nyne troops, took a Castle three miles from the Towne of Dungarvane. He is a very honest gentleman, and one that hath mayntayned his Castle of Ballagarren in despite of those bands of Rebles; for Captayne Butler, and Captayne Ffennell, with three or four other Captaynes, besieged him at once, beside the countrey people.

"Saturday night, Sunday, and Sunday night, our army quartered at Lismore, and at the Towne of Tollow, two miles from it.

"Monday morning, being the seventh day of March, we marched to Castle Lyons, and in our march wee had routed the Rebles in Cundan's countrey had not my Lord President heard of Sir Donagh M'Carty, Lord of Muskrye's rebellion. We quartered that night at Castle Lyons, the Earle of Barrimore's towne; his Honour gave the Lords, Commanders, and Common Souldiers, noble entertaynment. He is of a most noble, generous, free nature, full of humanity and Christian charity, and no less pious and truly vertuous; he hath sermons in his chapel duely twice a-day, Sundayes, Wednesdayes, and Fridayes.

"His Lordship received all the English that were robbed and stripped in Lord Roche's and Cundon's countrey, and his Right Honourable and religious Countess cloathed a great many of them, and amongst the rest, my wife and children, who were robbed and stripped in the said countrey, when the great and strong Castle of Cloghleagh was yeelded up unto Mr. Richard Cundane, wherein were most of the inhabitants of the market-towne of Killurd, and some of the inhabitants of the market-towne of Clogheene and Ffermoy, and divers of the parishioners of Leitrim and Clandullane, all which the said Earle kept a long time in his castle, and afterwards sent his troupe with them, and convayed them safe to Yoghall. I hope his loyalty, good service, and charity expended on those and many hundreds more of distressed Protestantes, will not long go unrewarded; however, I am confidant he shall have an everlasting reward.

"There are at least forty familyes uppon his Lordship's care and charge at this day, which were robbed and pillaged out of all they had. His Lordship hath had many invitations and letters from the Lord of Muscry, and the Lord Roch, and other gentlemen of the countrey to joyne with them, which his Honour detesteth and scornes. The copie of Lord Muscrye's letter I have here inserted.

"'My dear Lord,

"'Uppon the first rising in armes of the Ulstermen, and after of Leinster and Counaughtmen, against the King and commonwealth, as I then conceived, I do confesse I did as much abhor and detest their insurrection, and wished as evill successe to that their desperate attempt, as I took it, as either English or Irish could wish, untill at length, uppon better consideration, having examined all the wayes I could for finding out the true grounds of that insurrection, I found out the cause of their discontent and rising in armes was the apparent ruin and destruction threatened to Catholic Religion, King, and Countrie, which I did not altogether believe to be the grounds of their quarrell till I saw all Munster either rise or ready to rise out, whereat I was so much amazed that I did most seriously expostulate with all or the most part of the province of Munster, then with the rest to dive into the true cause of their discontent, who all protested that they wished no harm to the King of England nor any English whatsoever; but that apprehending a general fear of prosecution, ruin, and destruction to Religion, King, and Countrie, they were fearful and sensible thereof that they held it more safe and honourable for them to expose their lives and fortunes to all hazards for justification of these three than to be of the happiest conditions without assurance of enjoying them; which reason so prevayled with me that I have joyned with the rest of the kingdom with a full resolution to hazard my life and estate or mayntayne the Catholic Roman Religion, his Majestie's prerogative, and Royal attributes to the government and ancient privaliges of the poore kingdom of Ireland, established and allowed by the Common Lawe of England.

"'My Lord, these three poyntes are so reasonable that I doubt not but your Lordship (if you believe that they are the cause of our quarrell), will rather further them than offer to hinder our present designs. For the first, it is so cleare that I will not argue it; the second, I know your Lordship will advance and iustify to your power as much as any subject can doe; and without the benefit of the third there is no living, for your Lordship or your posterity in this poore countrie; and if your Lordship doe believe this to be the true motives and grounds of our discontent, the least of them is enough to invite your Lordship to ioyne with us in so honest and honourable an action; when if you should thinke to be remiss or refractory, our forces are ready, and have vowed to endeavour the destruction both of your life and estate. If your Lordship doubt of the truth and honesty of our quarrell, and the cause thereof, wee shall be ready and very glad to give you all satisfaction therein, and if you please to give credit to p'ticular relation, I protest uppon my creditt, there is no worldly respect could make me forgett my loyalty to his Majestie. My Lord, as well as I wish your Lordship (and although I have used all my endeavours to keepe my kinsmen and adherents from going into your countrey), if you come not presently and joyne with us, you must expect present ruine, and though I were resolved not to stirre nor ioyne with the countrey as I have done, I have such burning and killing of men, women, and children, without regard of age or quality, that I expect not safety for myselfe, having observed innocent men and well deservers as myselfe so used; and to shew that this our demonstration is faythfull and honest, these three conditions being granted and well assured unto us, wee are satisfyed and will laye downe our armes.

"'MOUSKERY.

"'17th Martii, 1641.'

"Thursday the eight of March.—My Lord President and Colonell Lanester and their forces marched from Castle Lyons to the citty of Corke, and they gott into the citty in good tyme, for the Lord of Mouskery had waysted his countrey and was very strong. The strongest Castle his Lordship hath wherein he usually livith is within three miles of the citty, the name of it is Castle Blarney.

"The Irish in those partys say it is one of the strongest Castles in Ireland; I have byn often in it, and I find it to be a place of great strength.

"The late Lord, Sir Charles M'Cartee, built two or three walls about the said Castle, and walled the garden with very strong walls and turrets with battlements, and contrived many plans of defence. I could heartily wish our English army were the owners of it.

"I had almost forgotten to acquaint you how my Lord of Broghill took Roche's Castle of the Towreene, neere Lismore, and caused the countrey people to go forward in ploughing their land, which I conceive to be very good service.

"The Lord of Killenmeaky hath don very great service of late in the west partes of the county of Corke, and about the towne of Bandon-bridge, took the Castle of Kilbrittayne, M'Cartee Reaughe's chief castle, the Castle of Pollalong, and divers other strong houses, and plundered the countrey.

"I know you cannot but have a true relation of it being here, and many in this citty which went with his Lordship in the said service. In taking of the Short Castle of Mallow, Mungarrett lost seven score of his men, and there were not above 9 shott defended the said castle, they kept it so stoutly that after the enemy had made a breech or two they gave them quarter, which was p'formed accordingly by the Lord Mungarrett contrary to the Lord Roche's minde, as I have byn informed. However it was, I am assured there was a great falling out betweene the two Lords, and many of the Lord Roche's men killed in the broyle. Twenty men killed and hurted of his Lordship's at the least, as the souldiers reported that were there; and to end the difference they burnt a great part of the spoyle, which was in the said Short Castle.

"The Cundons doe much mischief near Fermoy and Castle Lyons, they killed at one tyme three and twenty of the Earl of Barrimore's troopes that roade to Coole, an English plantation, about a mile from the Towne, to fetch corne. It was a most barbarous cruell murder: I trust the all-seeing eye of the Almighty will not suffer it go long unpunished.

"To acquaint you, sir, with the overthrow, we gave the Lord of Muskery, near Corke, with 500 musketeers and a hundred-fifty horse, and how his Lordship's tent was taken there by our souldiers, and his armour for his owne body, would be true though stale newes, for I am sure you have seen part of the passages in print.

"The Lord of Muskery escaped with life very narrowly at that tyme. I heard when his Lordship came home to the Blarney, he fell out very sore with his Ladye for p'suading him to ioyne with the countrey, in their rebellious actions and desperate attempt.

"Great O'Donovane, as the Irish call him, whose father was a most notorious rebel, doth much spoyle about the Leape, Castle-hevane, Bantry, Rossecarbery, and divers other places. His father burnt the towne of Rosse the last wars, and he or his souldiers most inhumanely killed a daughter of the old Lord Bishop Lyons, that was both deafe and dumb, yet he came in uppon his p'tection and saved his lands. I believe this O'Donovane doth hope hee shall have the like ffavour, and my neighbours, the Cundons, as the Arch Rebel their grandfather had; but I doubt not but they are mightily mistaken, for there will never any Englishman that is a Protestant dwell neare them, I am p'suaded, let them p'fess what love and loyalty they will hereafter.

"O'Sulliavane-Beere, Teige O'Dounce, Fflorence M'Cartee, of the Castle of Banduffe, Black O'Cullane, and other ffreeholders, neere Rosse, ioyne their forces together, and have taken great store of pillage, and robbed the English about the Bantry, Kilcoe, Affadowne, Balledahab, Landore, Cloghmakilty, and Inniskeane, Castletowne, alias Poldenstowne, the town of Rosse, and all those partes.

"The Rebles have made a slaughter-house of the Cathedral Church of Rosse, and dayly kill their cowes and sheepe in it. My father came lately over and makes known so much. He hath lived in the said town thirty years and more, and hath byn a good part of the tyme Treasurer of the said church.

Master Arthur ffreake and my ffather-in-law (Thos.) Boyle with others, the inhabitants of Rosse, have very manfully and bravely defended the Castle of Rosse Barry, near Rosse, in despite of all the Rebles doinges, and have done very good service against them.

"They now want bread, beare, and other provisions, for their store was long since exhausted; they had no beare in the Castle these fourteen weeks; but by help of a logh, which doth almost mote the castle round, they live, though poorely.

"I have a sonne in the said Castle, and there are many women and children in it; it is a hold of great consequence, therefore I hope theire will be a course taken that it may speedily bee relieved.

"Bandon Bridge men, I heare, desire some aide; for the enemy doth now begin to grow strong in those partes, and victualls is very very scarce in the towne.

"The English inhabitants and souldiers that are in the Castles of Macollop, Balladuffe, Mungeely, and Kilmacow, neere the towne of Tallow, have done good service, and mayntayned those holds stoutly and bravely, the enemy trembles at the very nameing of Captayne Pyne, Carter, Russell, Jackson, and Curdry, who are the chief commanders of those Castells, and also at the naming of a Minister, one Mr. Robert Crewes, who is in Macollop Castle, the common sort of Irish say cuniures amongst them.

"Cloghleagh Castle and Dungallane Castle, the enemy still mayntaynes and keepes; they are two very strong castles, but they want water both of them. Daniell M'Shane O'Bryan is captayne of Dungullane Castle; he hath a company of desperate naughty ffellows about him; they came to a gentleman, a parishioner of myne, whose land lyeth in Leitrim, one James FitzGerald, who is now maryed unto the Lord of Muskery's aunt, and p'suaded him to leave his thatched house in Letrim, and goe with them to the said Castle of Dungallane, and theire they would create him Earle of Desmond, and put him in possession of all his lands. The gentleman being a very weak man both of body and minde, was soon p'suaded, and went with them, and theire he is yet for anything I know to the contrary.

"I believe the gentlewoman, his wife, hath store of money and plate there with her. To my knowledge there is store of plate, brass, pewter, iron potts, and ffeather beds in those two Castles, and amongst the rest there is four of mine.

"I hope I shall see the demolishing of those castles, or a strong ward of English in them; they are the places of refuge for the Rebles of all that countrey, and, indeed, they were the bane of the English in those partes, and of all the travellers that passed that way, and they were the occasion of the death of many hundreds of Englishmen the last warrs in Ireland, as I have been creditably informed.

"The souldiers which doe belong unto the Cundane of Kilgullane Castle, in the parish Marshelstown, and unto Mr. Ulicke Roche, a chief freeholder in those partes, commit many outrages and stealthes. Sir William Ffenton's butler, I heard, killed the young captayne, Mr. Roche's sonne, neere Michealstown, where hee came in the night with his ragged tren to steale cows from some of the townesmen.

"I know not well how the old Ulick Roche, of the castle of Balleclogh, doth behave himself. There is a quondam parishioner of myne, an Englishman, one Robert Nixon, in the castle with him.

"The Lord Roche's castle of Glannor is a strong place, yet I heare but a weak ward in it. Our army took his Lordship's castle of Castletowne lately, wherein was a thousand people at least, his lady was in the castle there; they yeelded, as my ffriend, Mr. Rouckhood, of Corke, informeth me, uppon quarter to depart with their lives and wearing apparrell.

"Our army took also great O'Callahane's Castle lately.

"The Lord of Inchaquin and Captayne Gipson have given of late a great overthrow to the Rebles, 4 miles from Mallow, neere the towne of Broghill and the mountayne's foote.

"My Lord of Broghill relieved Sir Richard Osborne's Castle, and brought him home with him to Lismore very lately, and killed two hundred of the Rebles, which had besieged the Castle. I believe they will never besiege that Castle any more, because they have had such ill success; for I was with my Lord in the beginning of March last, when wee put many hundreds of them to flight; they had besieged it then, and killed many of them, and took some prisoners.

"There were killed by the Lord of Inchaquin's troupe and others, they say for certayne that came out of the county of Corke, 400 of the Rebles; and they took 4 ensigns and 3 drummers from them, with a great deal of good pillage; but there is great doubt of keeping of them, if speedy helpe bee not presently sent over, for the Rebles are very strong in the county of Limbricke, and have threatened not to be long away from the county of Corke.

"And thus hoping wee shall shortly have the victory of all the Rebles, and a strong garrison awhile kept in every market-towne of any strength, I commend you unto God for the present, and will for ever remayne, as I have professed myselfe, to bee

Augustine Kingsmill, of the family of Kingsmill, of Sidmonton, in Hampshire, was son of Rev. Antony Kingsmill, V. Bregoge, q. v. He was baptized at Milton, near Sittingbourne, in Kent, on 2nd September, 1604.

He was ordained Deacon on 4th January, 1633, and Priest on 3rd February, same year, both by Richard, Bp. of Cork.

He was, from 1633 to 1660 (?) V. Mogeesha and Rostillan; from 1635 to 1660 (?) R. Mogeesha and Rostillan; and from 1637 to 1660 (?) R. V. Dingindonovan, Clonmult, and Ballyspillane.

On 25th January, 1642, Augustine Kingsmill, of Barry's-court, in the parish of Carrigtwohill, Clerk, depones on oath that he was robbed and forcibly despoiled, on or about the 25th December, 1641, or thereabouts, of his goods and chattels, &c., worth £600, partly consisting of "debts due from these rebells following," . . . besides the loss of the benefits of the his church living, worth, communibus annis, £200. [MS. T.C.D. F. 2. 18.]

He died intestate. Administration of the will of Rev. Augustine Kingsmell, of Ballytubber-oughte (Ballyoughtra?) county Cork, was granted on 16th June, 1669, to Henry Kingsmell, his "nepos." He is stated in the memoir of the Byam family to have married Elisabeth, dau. of Rev. E. Byam, Precentor of Cloyne, q. v.; and the author of that memoir states that letters of administration were granted in 1669 to Elisabeth, the relict of Reverend Augustine Kingsmill.

In his titles to Dingindonovan, he is styled Rev. Augustine Kingsmill, senior. Perhaps there were two clergymen of this name.

These Kingsmills were of kin to William Kingsmill, of Ballyowen, county Cork, who, by his wife, Ursula (dau. of Sir Warham St. Leger, and sister of Sir William St. Leger), had two sons, John, who died Sp.; and William, who had a daughter, Mary, wife of Ulysses Burgh, Bp. of Ardagh.

The first-mentioned William Kingsmill is thus noticed by Smith in his history of Cork.

"The first act of hostility committed in Munster was on the 20th of November, 1641, when the rabble plundered Mr. William Kingsmill, of Ballyowen, brother-in-law to the Lord President St. Leger, who, with some forces, soon revenged the loss." [Smith's Cork, vol. 2, p. 118.]

1661. Nov. 12. ANDREW WANDRICKE appears as R. Mogeesha, with this remark—"in Anglia—to exhibit his titles and orders within a month." [V.B. D.R.] Wandricke appears also for Inchinabacky, Ballyspillane, and Castrachore, q. v.

MOURNEABBEY.

"Mourne, or Ballynamoney, in which was a preceptory of Knights Hospitallers, or Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, founded in the reign of King John, under the invocation of St. John Baptist, by an English gentleman, called Alexander de Sancta Helena. The Irish call it Monaster Na Mona. It had several great possessions, particularly a large domain on the spot, five plowlands in the parish of Temple-Michael, in Muskerry, besides a great number of parish tythes.

"This preceptory belonged first to the Knights Templars, who were suppressed in Ireland, by order of King Edward II., anno 1307, directed to Sir John Wogan, Lord Deputy, who executed the same on the 3rd of February, that year. It was computed that the King got £400 value of their effects in Ireland, a great sum in those times. The Templars' lands and possessions were, soon after, given to the Knights Hospitallers." "The body of the ruined church of Ballynamona still remains, which was 180 feet long. ruin is a small well-finished church, adorned with a steeple and weather-cock, called Ballynamona, rebuilt A.D. 1717, at which time, in the ruins of the old church, was found a large spur, and the head of an antique spear, probably belonging to one of the knights, buried here in his martial habiliments. They were given to the late Sir Matthew Deane, who contributed to the building of the church. Over the west door, on the steeple, is this inscription:—'Gloria Deo in excelsis. Templum hoc Antiquum de Temple-Michael, alias Mourne-abbey, jam diu dirutum reconditum fuit Anno Redemptionis, 1717. Et ab inauguratione Serenissimi Georgii Domini Regis tertio. Fear God, honour the King.'

"Adjacent to the church is a Charity School-house, and over the door:—'This Charity School was erected for the benefit of the poor children of this parish. Train up a child, &c.'

"This is the neatest country church in this county. It was built, together with the parsonage house, during the incumbency of the Lord Bishop of Meath (Doctor Henry Maule), then Minister of this parish. The chancel is semicircular. The altar piece is composed of six fluted pilasters, of the Corinthian order, with carved cherubims, neatly gilded, between them; on the panels are the Lord's Prayer, Creed, and Commandments, in gold letters. At the west end is an handsome gallery, erected at the charge of the late Sir Matthew Deane, for the charity children. Mr. Armstrong, while Curate of Farrahy, lived in the glebe-house of that parish, which is situated close to the demesne of Bowenscourt. Having received tidings of an intended attack on Bowenscourt house, he went at a late hour to warn the inmates, and continued there that night. The family were enabled by this timely notice to prepare for their assailants, who found the house guarded, and were fired upon with effect. The leader of the gang was killed, and the rest dispersed. Local tradition relates that the slain burglar was that night buried hastily in Rockmills or Nathlash church-yard.

The following inscription is on a tombstone in Farrahy church-yard:—"Hic jacet reverendus Martinus Armstrong, circiter trigenta annos hujus Parochiæ vicarius. Qui mite ingenio fide probitate omnes sibi devinxit cum quibus ulla con-

On 24th May, Atkin was elected President of Cloyne Chapter, and on 13th Sept., 1711, he was chosen Proctor to Convocation. In 1714 he was Sub-Dean of Cloyne. [C.B.]

In 1710 the corps of Treasurership was formed of Templenecarrigy, Castrachore or Midleton, Mogeesha, Ballyspillane, and Inchinabacky; and it so continued until 1833.

Walter Atkin was the eldest son of Walter Atkin, esq., of Youghal, by his wife, Miss Radcliffe, sister of Rev. Simon Radcliffe. He was born at Youghal in 1671, and was educated by Mr. Robert Gurney. He entered Trinity College, Dublin, 22nd June, 1689; and in 1693, became a Scholar of the house, and graduated A.B. in 1698, and A.M. in 1702.

He was from 1697 to 1702 a Minor Canon of St. Patrick's, Dublin; from 1698 to 1741, R. Mogeesha, and V. Castrachore; from 1702 to 1741, R. Dungourney, V. Inchinabacky; and from 1710 to his death in 1741 was Treasurer of Cloyne. He was also from 4th Oct., 1709, to 1740, Vicar-General of Cloyne.

At Middleton he became instrumental in diffusing the light of the Gospel among the Roman Catholic inhabitants of the district, in the remarkable manner described by Rev. John Richardson, in his book, entitled "A Short History of the attempts that have been made to convert the Popish Nation of Ireland to the Establish'd Religion, &c. By John Richardson, Rector of Annah, alias Belturbet, &c." London, 1712, pp. 37, 38.

"The Reverend Mr. Walter Atkin, Treasurer of the Cathedral Church of Cloyne, and Vicar of the parish of Midleton, in the county of Cork, and diocese of Cloyne, was the next who put his hand strenuously to this work, whereof I had the following account from himself:—Soon after he was collated, he set himself to acquire a competent knowledge in the Irish tongue, to which he was not altogether a stranger before. Then he proceeded to perform the Offices of Religion to the natives, in their own language, to which end the Earl of Inchiquin furnished him with an Irish Common Prayer Book, and the Bishop of Cloyne gave him encouragement. He buried their Dead according to the Liturgy of our Church, which the Living liked so well that they expressed great devotion at it, and joined their voices in the Lord's Prayer, and the responses before it. And one of them was heard to say at a burial in the church-yard of the Cathedral, 'That if they could have that Service always, they would go no more to Mass.' In process of time, his labours of this kind became so acceptable to the Natives, that they sent for him, of their accord, from all parts of his parish, to baptize their children, to visit their sick, to bury their Dead, to church their Women, and to solemnize Matrimony to such of them as were to be married, insomuch that he hath married six or eight couple of a day. And one of the natives being dangerously sick, told him, 'That if he would attend him in his extremities, he would not send for the Romish Priest.' And by these means, this worthy gentleman left the Popish Priest so little to do in his parish, that one of the chief of the natives, 'desired him to forbear marrying so many of them, because this being an article of great profit to the Popish Clergy, the Priest would starve for want of bread, if it were taken from him.' This hath been Mr. Atkin's practice for several years, and he continues it with the same success."

He married, in 1699, at Dublin, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Coningsby, esq., of Nien Solars, Salop, and cousin-germain of Thomas, Earl Coningsby (Extinct Peerage). By this lady, who died 4th November, 1715, and was buried at Midleton, where is her monument, he had issue:—1. John-Thomas, in holy orders, R. Ardnegihy, Cork, q. v. 2. Coningsby, died unmarried, in 1760. 3. Walter, in holy orders, his father's Curate at Middleton. 4. William, a doctor of medicine. 1. TULLILEASE.

"Berichter, of Tulach-leis, died on the 6th of December," Anno 839. [Four Masters.] Dr. Reeves has published an interesting account of St. Beretchert, of Tullylease, [i.e., the hill of the nuts], whose tombstone is still to be seen in the old ruined church, with the legend;—"qui cum quæ hunc titulum legerit orat pro berechtuine." Dr. Reeves observes that the glebe land, "though it is now alienated," seems "to have been enclosed by a circular fence, having the church nearly as centre. Tradition represents it as about 18 acres in extent; but the Down Survey (No. 26, B.M. of the county of Cork,—Record Office, Custom House, Dublin,) sets it out as 15A. 2R. The outline of nearly half the circle has been lately traced, and in some places the rampart is nearly perfect." "On the same side of the road as the church, and about 120 yards north, is the Tobar Muire (Mary's Well), which is cased inside with blocks of oak, about three feet deep, rudely squared; and it is believed to have been formerly lined with lead." Mr. Olden, the Vicar of Tullylease, states that the correct interpretation of the common name of this well—"Poul-a-mheir"—(pronounced Poulavēre), is Pour Lavēir, or the Pool of the Laver, i.e., a Baptistery. The only other Baptistery of this kind in Ireland is that at St. Doulough's, near Dublin.

It is small, having in the centre the letters "I H C," with the legend around the margin, "S. Gardiani. de. Yoghyll."

O'Fallon was Deputy of the Grey Friars, or Franciscans, of Ireland, and was advanced to the see of Derry. He is thus noticed by the Abbé MacGeoghegan [History of Ireland, page 376, ed. 1844]:—

"Domnal O'Fallon, of the Order of St. Francis, and Bishop of Derry, died at this time [sc. circa 1500], having governed that see for fifteen years; he was the most celebrated prelate of the church of Ireland in his time for his erudition and preaching. He particularly excelled in the latter, which he exercised throughout the island, for thirty years."

On 5th Oct., Philip Pounch, of the Church of the Holy Trinity, witnesses a will, of which probate is given to "Mauricio Johis tunc Wardiano ecclise B.V.M. de Yoghyllye." Fitzjohn also appears in a deed, dated 13th Nov., 15 of the same year, 1521. [Sarsfield and Ronayne MSS.]

In 1552, May 10, Roger Skiddy, Bachelor of Arts, Chaplain, was made Dean of Limerick; and same year, 24th Sept., was also made R. Kilmone, in Meath dioc. In 1556 he resigned his deanery of Limerick, and was appointed Bishop of Cork and Cloyne, by Queen Mary, the writ for restitution of temporalities being dated 2nd Nov., 1556. His consecration was delayed by the death of Mary, until 1561, when Queen Elisabeth confirmed his appointment.

Wethered's patent was among the muniments in Lismore Castle, at the time when Smith wrote his History of Cork. [Hayman.] On 21st March, 1588/9, Wethered was nominated to the sees of Waterford and Lismore. [Rot. Pat. 31 Eliz.] He was made Archdeacon of Cork and Cloyne in 1585, September 9, which archdeaconries he resigned (probably) in 1587. He retained his bishopricks and the Wardenship until his death in 1591/2.

Baxter had been in early life a tutor to Sir Philip Sydney.

He is entitled to special mention as a writer of some consideration in the reign of Elizabeth. The poem called "Sir Philip Sydney's Ourania" was for a long time attributed to Nicholas Breton; because the author had placed his initials only on the title-page. Recent researches have shown, and a careful perusal of the poem itself will demonstrate, that the real author was Nathaniel Baxter.

Baxter was inducted (as we have seen) into the Wardenship of Youghal College, 23rd May, 1592; and he was deprived of the appointment, 30th June, 1598. He seems, after this, to have retired to Wales, where he was presented, in 1602, to the living of Troy, of Monmouthshire. He compounded for the First Fruits, 26th May of this year, on entering upon his incumbency. See further notices of him in the Rev. Joseph Hunter's "New Illustrations of the Life, &c., of Shakspeare." London: 8vo. 1845. P. 355, note. [Hayman.]

1602/3. Feb. 24. Dr. RICHARD BOYLE was, by patent, confirmed in the wardenship of Youghal. [Lismore MSS.]

In 1610 Lord Cork endowed a school at Youghal with £30 per an., and a large house. In 1728 it was kept as a classical school. In 1812 the Bp. of Cloyne reported that the Master, Rev. Mr. Hackett (having been appointed by Duke of Devonshire, against the wishes of the Corporation) had met with discouragement and withdrawn from the place, still retaining his salary! The house was let to a manufacturer for the purposes of his trade. [Report, 1812.]

"Near it, the college of Youghal, stands an almshouse and free school, founded by the same nobleman (the first Earl of Cork). The first for six poor widows, who have each of them lodging, firing, and £5 per annum. The schoolmaster has £30 a-year salary. The Earl of Cork procured letters patent, and a licence of mortmain for these endowments, as well as for his almshouse and schools at Lismore and Bandon, which bear date 19th of Feb., 1613. [Smith's Cork, vol. i., p. 118.]

1637. Gervaise Thorpe was Warden. [Hayman.] Perhaps this is the preferment to which he was presented by letters patent of March 15, 1637/8. [Lib. Mun.] He was the last Rector of Youghal prior to the incorporation of the wardenship with the bishoprick of Cloyne.

1638. The Crown presented the rectory or wardenship of Youghal with all its lands and house to the Bishops of Cloyne, to be held in commendam "ratione tennuitatis Episcopatus Clonensis." [Hayman.]

Sir Bernard Burke, in his Peerage of the Barony of De Clifford, writes:—"William, 2nd son of Richard, 4th Duke of Normandy, surnamed Ponce or Poncius, was Earl of Arques and Thoulouse, and came into England with his victorious nephew, Duke William. He had three sons—Walter, Drew, and Richard. Of the eldest little is known; from the second descend the families of Drew, of the Grange, county Devon, and of Mocollup Castle, county Waterford."

Camden (see his "Remains," p. 130), mentions Drew as one of those Christian names, which after the Conquest were retained as surnames. Lysons in his "Britannia" tells us that Drew aforesaid had at the time of the Domesday Survey seventy-three manors in Devon, where his descendants have remained in wealth and honour to the present day, and are now represented by Edward S. Drew, esq., D.L. and J.P., of the Grange. Some of those manors, viz., Drewscliffe, Sharpham, and Hayne, continued for many centuries in possession of the family, and were only exchanged for others more desirable. In Sir Bernard Burke's "Royal Families of England, Scotland, and Wales," there are two pedigrees, showing the lineal descent of the Drew family from King John of England; Edward I.; Lewelyne, Prince of Wales; Dermot M'Murrough, King of Leinster; the King of Connaught; William Montacute, King of Isle of Man; Earl Strongbow; Hugh de Laci, Justice of Ireland; the Bigods, Earls of Norfolk; the Mortimers, Earls of March; M'Carthymores, Earls of Ormond and Thomond; and Lords Le Poer, of Curraghmore. And through the illustrious family of De la Pomeroy, of Devon, they derive from the following Norman families, most of whose arms they quarter, viz.:—De Vere, De Vernon, De Campernon, De Wynyard, De Vetrei, De Valletort, De Mules, De Camville, De Boville, De Clifford, De Baronia, De Fraxinis, De Treverbyn, D'Adeston.

Francis Drew, 2nd son of John Drew, esq., of Drewscliffe and Hayne, Devon, came to Ireland a Captain in Queen Elizabeth's Army, in 1586, and founded the families of Drew, of Mocollup Castle, county Waterford, and of Drew's Court, county Limerick. His lineal descendant, John Drew, eldest son of Francis Drew, esq., of Mocollup Castle, a man of great learning and unbounded hospitality, having to remove from that place during the rebellion of 1798, came to Youghal, where, on 13th March following, his fourth son, the present Rector of Youghal, was born.

Pierce-William Drew, of whose descent we have thus given a brief account, was educated at his native town, Youghal, by Dr. Bell, and having obtained honors in classics, he graduated A.B., T.C.D., in 1821, and was ordained Deacon on 14th April, 1822, and Priest on 14th August, 1825, by Bp. Warburton, at Cloyne.

He was licensed to the curacy of Mogeely on 19th June, 1828, and to that of Clonmel in October, 1831. He was presented on 14th Nov., 1833, by his parishioners, at Cove, with some valuable plate, and on 1st Dec., 1833, became Curate of Youghal.

He married, on 15th Sept., 1821, at St. Anne, Shandon, Elisabeth, only dau. and heiress of Thomas Oliver, esq., of Wellington-place, Cork. By her Mr. Drew has issue surviving one son, Pierce-William; and seven daughters—Matilda-Rowena, who was married to the late Rev. David Elrington, of Swords, county Dublin, grandson of the Bp. of Ferns; Mona-Brougham; Elisabeth-Oliver; Catherine-Henrietta Lawton; Alice Le Poer; Christina-Rebecca-Pomeroy; and Agnes-Margaret-Naylor, wife of Edward Henry John Meredyth, Capt. 87th Foot, only son and heir of Sir Edward Meredyth, baronet, of Greenhills, county Kildare.

Mr. Drew has published some sermons, viz.—1. "Puseyism leads to Popery, and is opposed to the Articles, Homilies, and Liturgy of our Church." 2. "Recollections of the leading particulars of a Sermon preached in Youghal Church, on Sunday, the 10th of March, 1861, by Rev. P. W. Drew." He also published, 3. "An account of Youghal Church, including Memorials of the Boyles, the College, and Sir Walter Raleigh's house," in the Topographer and Genealogist, edited by John Gough Nicholls, F.S.A., London.

Mr. Drew is deservedly called, in allusion to his taste and liberality in restoring and beautifying the ancient Collegiate Church of St. Mary's, Youghal, "Instaurator ruinæ." For an account of his unwearied exertions in this "labour of love," see the "Handbook for Youghal," "Guide to Youghal and the Blackwater," and "Notes and Records of the ancient Religious Foundations at Youghal," by the Rev. S. Hayman, printed at Youghal, by John Lindsay, in various years.

Archdeacon Weld, as appears from the family papers now in the possession of his descendants, was descended from a very ancient English family, a member of whom, SIR RICHARD WELD, had a son, Edmond, who was a Chaplain in Cromwell's army. This Reverend Edmond Weld was, in 1660, settled at Blarney, near Cork, and is supposed to have held the preferment of Grenagh or Garrycloyne; but as all matters connected with the church in those days were in much confusion, no record of his admission to either of those benefices has yet been found. He was, it would seem, a man of some learning, as his manuscript sermons, beautifully written in old English characters, and dated from "Blarney Castle, 1660," and his manuscript poems, are still preserved by his descendants.

The Reverend Edmond Weld had a son, Nathaniel, who was also in holy orders. Nathaniel was possessed of considerable estates in Ireland, and left issue (as appears by his will, dated 11th Dec., 1729, and proved in Dublin, 8th March, 1730) by his wife, Mary, five sons and three daughters, namely—1. Richard, married Eleanor, dau. of —— Bennett, esq., and died in 1755, Sp. 2. Edmond, of whom hereafter. 3. Isaac, in holy orders, of Harold's-cross, county Dublin; he married Anne, dau. of Jonathan Darby, esq., and had issue two sons, and a daughter, Anna-Maria, wife of Rev. Philip Taylor. The Rev. Isaac Weld (whose will was dated 26th May, and proved 25th Sept., 1775) was ancestor of the late Isaac Weld, esq., J.P., of Ravenswell, county Dublin; and of Charles Richard Weld, esq., of London; and of Rev. Dr. Taylor, formerly of Harold's-cross. 4. Joseph, died unm. 5. Charles, died unm. 6. Mary, wife of Benjamin Johnston, esq. 7. Hannah, died unm. 8. Sarah, died unm.

EDMOND, the second son, as above stated, by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Joseph Kane, esq., of Dublin, had issue a son and heir, Matthew, who was of Dublin, and who married in 1737 Elizabeth, dau. of Alderman Nathaniel Kane, of Dublin. This Matthew Weld had five sons and five daughters, namely—1. Edmond, who was afterwards Edmund Weld Hartstonge (he died in 1815, having had issue by his wife, Anne, relict of John Agmondisham Vesey, esq., six children—Matthew, his heir, died 1834; Edmond-Joseph, an officer in the army, who died 1832; Richard, Lieut.-Col. 18th Royal Irish, who died 1845; Standish, an officer in the army, killed in action in India in 1799; Anne-Martha, died unm. in 1847; and Eliza, who died unm. in 1849). 2. Nathaniel, an officer in the army. 3. Matthew, Lieut. R.N. 4. Richard, Captain in the army, who married Hannah, dau. of Thomas Litton, esq., of Dublin, Barrister-at-Law, and died Sp. 5. Joseph, Archdeacon of Ross, of whom hereafter. The five daughters of Matthew and Elizabeth Weld were—1. Martha, wife of Rev. Dr. John O'Connor, and mother of Rev. George O'Connor, Vicar Choral of Cloyne, q. v. 2. Esther, wife of Dr. Brinkley, Bishop of Cloyne. 3. Elizabeth, wife of Rev. Hugh O'Neill, Rector of Chapelizod, Dublin, and Chaplain to the Forces. 4. Sarah, wife of Major Bayly. 5. Margaret, unm.

Joseph Weld (the fifth son, as above stated, of Matthew and Elizabeth Weld) was, on 3rd Feb., 1771, appointed Reader at St. Finbarr's Cathedral, Cork. From 1775 to 1776 he was Treasurer of Cork. In 1776 he was made R. V. Tullagh and Creagh; in 1777, Archdeacon of Ross; and in 1781, P. Dromdaleague and R. Caheragh. He retained all these benefices, except Tullagh and Creagh, until his death in the month of September, 1781. He was married on 12th July, 1775, to Susanna Maria Mann, the niece, ward, and adopted daughter of Isaac Mann, Bishop of Cork and Ross, and had issue by her (besides two daughters, Anne, wife of Rev. Samuel Downing, Rector of Fenagh, Leighlin; and Esther, wife of Rev. James Adam Ker, Rector of Listerling, Ossory, whose son, Rev. Matthew Ker, is now a clergyman at Gaspè, Canada East) an only son, Matthew, who was married on 29th October, 1810, to Mary Izod, daughter of Lorenzo Izod Nickson, esq., of Chapelizod House, Kilkenny, and niece to CHRISTIANA (in her own right), BARONESS DONOUGHMORE, of Knocklofty.

By this alliance Matthew Weld had issue five children, namely—1. Joseph, who has issue by his wife, Isabella, dau. of Captain James Wood-Wright, two sons, Matthew-Richard and Charles-James, and three daughters. 2. "May 29, 1700. I went from Ballimony, through Dromma-league, to Skibbareen. Abbystrewry parish lies on the west and north of the town of Skibbareen. Skibbareen town, part of it, viz., that on the west and north side of the river, is in the parish of Abbeystrewry; and part of it, viz., that on the east, is in the parish of Creagh, except some few plowlands on the east, which belong to Abbeystrewry. Abbeystrewry parish is bounded on the south by Creagh parish, by Affadown on the W., by Castlehaven on the east, and by Caharah on the north. There is a view of good land to the north of Skibbareen, five miles in length, and a mile and a half in breadth. The chappel was burnt in the late troubles, and was repaired about the year 1695, at the charge of £23, laid out by Mr. Lavers. He is still out of pocket above 40*s*. Some of the parishioners have been presented for not paying their portion of the rate for repairing the chappell, but the suit is still depending. Corn. Crowley, a convert, teaches grammar in a school in this parish. His wife teaches English. The Protestant parishioners (before this chappel was consecrated) of the parish of Creagh agreed to contribute to the repairs of the chappel, as 'tis said, by a formal instrument.

"There is but one Common-Prayer Book and a small Bible. There was an assessment lately made of £4 upon the parishes of Abbeystrewry and Creagh for necessaries for the chappel. There is a new registry book. A rate is made for linnen, pulpit-cushin, &c.

"Mr. Bousfield preaches 2 Sundays in 3, at his own house, for the parishes of Affadown and Kilcoe. At least a hundred were confirmed on Sunday, the 2nd of June, 1700. Mr. Trix preaches 1 Sunday in 3 at Baltemore or Shirkin, and 1 Sunday in 3 at Skibbareen chappel, and sometimes 2 Sundays in 3 at Skibbareen, so that he preaches in one place or other once every Sunday. There are prayers on Sundays, in the afternoon, and on holy days, in the morning.

"Colonel Townsend and Madam Owen have the greatest part of the lands of this parish. Mr. Goodkin is tenant to some of the Earl of Corke's family, viz., the Lady Mary Boyle, for the plowlands belonging to the Abby, and for the tythes of the parish of Abbystrewry. The tythes of this parish are worth near £30 per annum—18 plowlands in this parish.

"There is a meeting-house for the Quakers in Skibbareen. Every Sunday the Quakers in and near Skibbareen hold a meeting, generally a silent one, to the number of about 8 families, and also on Thursdays.

"Thursday, May the 30th, 1700. There was a meeting of Quakers, to the number of about 40, at Skibbareen; two Yorkshire women give them a visit occasionally.

"There is no meeting of dissenters, except Quakers, in this or the neighbouring parishes, only Mr. Fountain preach't one Sunday, in the afternoon, in the beginning of May, 1700, in an ale-house in Skibbareen. Most of the Protestants went, out of curiosity, to hear him. Mr. Fountain, with several French families, is settled at Beerhaven.

"At Skibbareen money has been usually deducted out of the collection for bread and wine; this practice was forbid for the future.

"There are two Churchwardens in the parish of Abbeystrewry, chosen, but not sworn. Glissane is Parish Clerk of this chappel.

"Once a month the Quakers meet from Bandon and Skibbareen—at Skibbareen first, and next month at Bandon. Once in 6 weeks a provincial meeting is held at Cork or Clonmell. A half-yearly meeting in Dublin, a yearly meeting in London. Every one goes to these meetings according to their freedom. At Cork, every three weeks, is held a meeting of men, and another of women, chiefly for taking care of the poor." [Downes' Tour.]

Affadown and Kilcoe are desirous that a chappel should be built at Affadown town, for the use of the parishioners of both parishes. There is an assessment made upon both parishes at the rate of 18s. a plowland on each plowland. There are 33 plowlands in the parish of Affadown, and 14 in the parish of Kilcoe. From Affadown town to the extreme part of the parishes of Affadown and Kilcoe is not above 2 miles and a-half. The old church of Affadown stands upon the Island river, on the corner of the parish. The Bishop of Corke and Colonel Beecher have the greatest part of the parish of Affadown.

"Mr. Owen, of Innishbegclary, lives in the parish, and Mrs. Dickinson, Col. Beecher's sister; Daniel M'Carthy is priest of this parish, and Kilcoe, and Abbeystrewry. "The lands of this parish belong for the most part to the Archbishop of Dublin and Col. Townsend, and some were forfeited to the King in the time of the late trouble.

"The people of this parish hear divine service in Mr. Bousfield's house. The Popish priest of Affadown serves this parish and Abbeystrewry.

The Protestant minister has not been in this island for many years past. Mr. Bousfield and Mr. Trix promis'd to go thither on next St. Barnabas Day, and to preach to the people.

"REV. SIR,—I have been informed that the Prebend of Donoghmore, in the diocese of Ross, is vacant, by the death of the Rev. Mr. Campion. "1699. August 15. Tuesday. I went from Sherkin to Ross. We landed near Baltemore, a poor ruinous place in the parish of Tullough. Thence we went to Castlehaven, where the Countess Dowager of Castlehaven lives in an old house. The church of Castlehaven, als. We took up some oysters with a dredge, which were very large and good. Mr. Fortune preaches 3 Sundays in 4 at Castlehaven, and the 4th at a gentleman's house in Kilfaughnabeg.

"1699. Robert Howard, Verger of Rosse, says that the whole of Castlehaven parish is worth about £70. The Vicar's part is a third of the tythes, the whole glebe, and the bookmony; worth about £30 per an.

"The Rector of Abbeystrewry has half the tythes of 2 plowlands in this parish; the other half belongs to the Rector of Castlehaven and the Vicar, viz.:—two-thirds to the Rector, and one-third to the Vicar. The Rector of Castlehaven has two-thirds of all the rest of the parish.

"1699. Castlehaven Church, als. Glaunbarachan, is out of repair. It stands 3 miles from Skibbareen to the S.E. There has been an assessment made of 10s. per plowland for the repairs. There are about 35 plowlands. Mr. Fortune lives at Castlehaven. The church is large; it stands near the Castle, upon an arm of the sea—a very good harbour. Higher up the same harbour stands Castletown, where Colonel Townsend lives.

"The land of this parish is generally coarse. Dr. Pomeroy, Dean of Corke, has the rectory of Glaunbarachan, alias Castlehaven. He has two-thirds of all the tithes.

"Divine service is performed in the Church of Castlehaven by Mr. Fortune 3 Sundays in 4, and the 4th Sunday Mr. Fortune preaches at Kilfaughnaghbeg, in a gentleman's house. Three gentlemen, by turns, have the sermon in their houses. The harbour of Castlehaven is very good. About 50 persons at church on Sundays, at Castlehaven. Kilfaughnabeg and Kilmacabee are contiguous. Miros lyes betwixt them and Castlehaven." [Downes' Tour.]

John Fortune (son of George Fortune), was born at Lisneskea, county Fermanagh, and was educated by a Mr. Fortune, probably his father. ISLAND.

1363. ROBERT BEAKAN was appointed by the Crown Precentor of Ferns and "Prebendary of Island" (quære if of this prebend?) [MS. Clarendon, 36, quoted by Cotton.]

1591. MAURICE HURLEY appears. "E. de Insula et vicar. loci Mauricius hurley, laicus, in Anglia. Contumax. ad amocōem ejus." [MS. T.C.D. E. 3. 14.] He also appears for Disert.

1615. JAMES WORTH appears. "Insula: Rector et vicarius Jacobus Worth. Corpus prebendæ. Valor decem librarum. Ecclesia et cancella bene repāntur cum libris, &c." [R.V. 1615.]

The Rev. James Worth was the son of Jasper Worth, esq., of Tytherington, in the parish of Prestbury, and county of Cheshire, where the family had resided upwards of three hundred years. [Lysons' Cheshire, page 732.] James Worth appears to have been the first of the family who settled in Ireland, and was described as of Newmarket, county Cork, where his descendants possessed the following lands:—Aghaneenagh, Gortearagh, Drominarrigle, Knocknanagh, and Killasseragh, all situate in the parish of Kilmeen, in the diocese of Ardfert and Aghadoe. These lands passed by marriage into the Newenham family, and were lately sold in the Landed Estates Court to Major-General Longfield.

James Worth appears in 1615 as P. Island, V. Desert, and V. Kilgarruffe. He was also, from 1617 to 1618, V. Lislee; and from 1618 to 1626? R. Lislee.

The son of James Worth was Edward, Dean of Cork, q. v., and afterwards Bishop of Killaloe. His will, dated 24th July, 1669, was proved on 2nd May, 1670, at Dublin. Bishop Worth, by his wife, Susannah Pepper, had issue, inter alios, three children—1. Susannah, "baptised at Corke the 20th february, 1643." She was wife of Captain Epinetus Cross, of Cross-Green, county Cork, and bore to him a daughter, Susannah, wife of Rev. John Griffith, R. V. Kilsillagh, Ross, q. v. 2. WILLIAM, of whom presently. 3. John, baptized at Cork on 23rd May, 1647, who was afterwards Dean of St. Patrick's, Dublin. Dean John Worth died in 1688, having had issue, by his wife, Comfort ——? eight children, of whom six died young, and the others were—Michael, who died in London, and Edward, who was a physician in Dublin, and died in 1732, leaving his property (excepting a legacy of £2,000 to Merton College, Oxford, and his library which he left to Steevens' Hospital in Dublin), to his cousin, Edward Worth, of Rathfarnham.

WILLIAM, the second son of Bishop Edward Worth, was baptized in Cork on 3rd February, 1645/6, and became Second BARON of the EXCHEQUER in Ireland. He had three, if not four, wives. He married, firstly, Alicia, dau. and co-heir of William Barnet, of Yocksford, Sussex, and by her had a son, EDWARD, of whom hereafter. Baron Worth married, secondly, Mabel, fourth dau. of SIR HENRY TYNTE, of Ballycrenane, co. Cork, and by her had a son, James, who succeeded to the estates of the Tynte family, and took the name of James Worth Tynte. This J. W. Tynte was M.P. for Youghal and a Privy Councillor. He married Hester, dau. and h. of John, the second son of SIR RICHARD BULKELEY, the first baronet, and dying in 1758 without issue surviving, left his property to Robert Tynte, esq.

Baron Worth married, thirdly, Dorothy, dau. of —— Whitfield, esq., and relict of SIR RICHARD BULKELEY, the first baronet, who died in 1685. She died on 12th January, 1704, and was buried at St. Patrick's, Dublin. This marriage, though stated by Lodge and Archdall, is, I think, doubtful.

Baron Worth married, lastly, Lucy, dau. of SIR GEORGE DOWNING, of Hatley, in Cambridgeshire, baronet, and relict of SIR RICHARD BULKELEY, the second baronet, who died 7th April, 1710. This marriage took place in August, 1710, and she died on the 9th Oct., 1710, aged 47, and was buried beside her first husband, in the church of Ewell, in Surrey. [Vide Lodge's Peerage, first edition, vol. iii., page 41.] Baron Worth, in his will, mentions his late wife, Lucy. [Mason's History of St. Patrick's Cathedral—Notes, page lix].

EDWARD WORTH, the eldest son of Baron Worth, was baptized in Cork on 12th March, 1670. He was, I think, twice married. In the burial register of St. Patrick's are the following entries:—"1698, February 5. Dorothy, wife of Edward Worth;" and—"1732, May 9. Mrs. Worth, wife of Edward Worth, esq." This Edward Worth, who was of Rathfarnham, county Dublin, and who succeeded to the family property, died on the 12th, and was buried on 16th November, 1741, in St. Patrick's, Dublin. He had one son, William (who married Jane Saunders, and died Sp., ante patrem, in 1725), and four daughters, co-heiresses—1. Dorothy, who was married on 22nd Sept., 1726, to WILLIAM NEWENHAM, esq., of Coolmore, county Cork. She died in June, 1743. 2. Jane, wife of James Persse. She died in 1763. 3. There is a large flat stone near the ruins of the old church of Kilcaskin, about a mile to the north of Adrigoole bridge, and in the hollow of this stone, which contains about a gallon of water, the country people bathe their eyes, when sore, in expectation of a cure. If the hollow be empty, they fill it with water from a neighbouring stream. They walk round the stone, and kneel before it, saying prayers; and, at each round, throw into the hollow a bit of rush formed into a cross. They afterwards suspend a piece of rag on a bush over the stone, in memorial of their devotions. It is not an effectual cure if one may judge from the results.

He was ordained Deacon on 12th March, and Priest on 24th December, 1815, both at Cork.

"Next to Kilcaskane, to the west, lies the parish of Killaghaninagh. 78 plowlands. No church in repair. Capt. Boid, a Presbyterian, and Theop. Hutchins, and 3 families more, live in this parish. Mr. Holmes is Vicar of this parish. He goes about once a quarter to perform divine service at Mr. Hutchin's house in Berehaven. The Countess of Castlehaven has the rectory; the vicarage is worth about £20 per an. Dorses Island is in this parish. There was, heretofore, a chappel of ease in this island, and another in Great Island, in the same parish.

Dood O'Huologhan, als. Hungry hill, which is the highest in that country. We landed at Dood O'Huologhan, and, in a small wood at the bottom of the hill, on the south side, we saw above a hundred of the arbutus trees. O'Sullevane Beere lives in a cabin at the foot of the hill. Part of Dood O'Huologhan is in the parish of Kilcaskan, and part of it in the parish of Killaghanenah.

"Killaghaneenah parish reaches from Bantry Bay to Kinmare River; 'tis in breadth about 3 or 4 miles, and is 12 miles in length. The island of Beerhaven is in the parish, and all the Dorses, and Beerhaven, als. Dunbury. There is a chappel in Beerhaven Island called Ballinikilty, the walls are standing, uncovered, on the north side of the island. We saw it as we pass'd by it in the bay. 2 English families, and near 50 Irish families, are in this island. About 10 Irish families are in the Dorses, but no English. There was a chapel in the island of Dorses called Kilmichil, of which some of the walls are standing. In the whole parish of Killaghneenah are about 15 Protestant families; five of them French and five Scotch, which are dissenters, and five English families which are conformists. In the parish of Killaghneenagh are about 80 plowlands. A Popish schoolmaster, Major Carthy, teaches Latin in this parish. There is no Protestant school nearer than Bantry.

"The Lord Altham, Earl of Cork, and Mr. Gookin, by lease, and Captain Boid, have the lands of this parish; and Mr. John Davys, Mr. Hutchins, Capt. Boid, Mr. Fountain, Sergeant Grahams, Mr. Thos. Dyer, and a Waiter live in this parish. The Countess of Castlehaven has the rectory; 'tis worth about £18 per an. She has half of all the tythes. The Vicar's part, by the addition of bookmony, is worth about £25 per an.

"The tides, at the change and full of the moon, rise about 10 foot at Beerhaven. No divine service nearer than Bantry. About 20 plantation acres of glebe lie round the church of Killaghneenagh, let for 20*s.* per an. The lands of this parish are generally very coarse, mountainy, rocky, and boggy. That part that lies towards the Dorses is much better than the rest. In our way to Kilmannah, near Beerhaven, we saw iron mine in ye road they use at the iron works at Croomhofla, in Mr. Wallis' iron works. At Dunbury, als. Beerhaven, there was a castle in the time of Queen Elisabeth, which was made a fort in Cromwell's time.

"Beerhaven Island is 5 miles in length, within a small mile of the main. It makes a good harbour, but there are some rocks under water near the entrance into Beerhaven called the Colts. There is a bed of escalops and oysters in the bay at Beerhaven.

"There were no Protestants before the late troubles, neither in this nor in the parishes of Kilmannah, nor Kilkatirin, nor Kilcaskan. There are a few Protestants in Killaghanenagh—now the Papists are humbled and become amenable to the law, which they scarcely were before.

"On the south side of Dood O'Huologhan, towards the bottom of the hill, grow at least a hundred of the arbutus or cane apple trees, call'd in Irish, apples cahanah; some of them 24 or 26 foot high. This tree grows like a shrub, severall branches growing out of the same stock. The old trees have no leaves only at the top. The high trees had no fruit, but the suckers that grow at the roots of the old trees had fruit on them, unripe, but no blossoms nor ripe fruit. The suckers of 4 or 5 foot height bear fruit. The old bark peels off, and a new bark grows under it. The trees, at a distance, look reddish, the edges of the leaves being reddish. The ground on which the trees grow is very rocky, and the roots shoot themselves into the clefts of the rocks. The earth is blackish and boggy, but 'tis thought to be fat earth. In the same wood grow oaks, birch, hazel, crab trees, heath, fern, and furzes, and holly, which seems to thrive better than the rest. Commonly, heath grows at the roots of the cane apple trees.

"Tiege Sullevane is Popish priest of this parish of Killaghneenagh, Kilmannah, and Kilkatierin; he has been here about 20 years. Oghigjanagh, an Irish saint, is patron of this parish; his day is observ'd on the 15th day of August, the Assumption of the B.V.

"We saw several eagles upon the lands of Beerhaven. There are many wolves there. Bantry Bay is, for the most part, 2 leagues broad. 'Tis seaven leagues from Bantry to Beerhaven. We were 12 hours agowing thither, but we returned in seaven. It would be very fit that a minister should be plac'd at Beerhaven, if there were a competent maintenance for him; he might serve Killaghneenagh, Kilmannah, Kilkatierin, and Kilcaskin. At Dunbury, als. Beerhaven, was formerly a castle belonging to O'Sullivan; afterwards, by the Government, there was a fort made there, which is now ruinous. In this parish, and in Kilmocamoge, and in Killaganeenah, they formerly paid 40*s*. tythe for every saine, but now they pay nothing. Mr. Holmes sued the parishioners in 1663, in the Bishop's Court, for the tythes of fish, upon which they afterwards paid 40*s*. p. saine. Col. Beecher opposes the paying of tythes for the saine. They pay for drift nets the 20th fish in these parishes. At the mouth of the harbour of Beerhaven, the channel betwixt the W. point of the island of Beerhaven and the maine land is not half a mile broad. There will be at least 20 saines out in Bantry bay this season; 2 boats and 15 men to each saine.

"On Tuesday, being St. Barnabas' day, I confirmed four persons in Mr. Hutchin's house, at Beerhaven. I gave among the Protestants 4 Common-Prayer Books and 1 of Tillotson's

6 sermons, and 5 little books. On Tuesday, the 11th of June, I went to view the church of Kilmannah, and return'd to Beerhaven at night. The same day I view'd the church of Killaghanenah. The church of Killaghaneenah stands within a small mile of Dunbury, als. Beerhaven; the walls are standing uncover'd. It would be the most proper church to be rebuilt for the parishes of Killaghaneenah, Kilmannah, Kilkatierin, and Kilcaskin, and the minister to live at Dunbury, als. Beerhaven.

"On Tuesday, the 11th of June, 1700, I went from Dunbury, als. Beerhaven, to view the church of Kilmannah, which is 3 miles from Bantry. We went to it over Knockooragh, from which hill we saw the Dorses, the Cow—a steep rock off Dorses, the 2 Skellix Islands, and Hog Island beyond Kinmare River. In the Skellix a fowl, as big as a goose, breeds. No Protestants live in this parish. This parish lies to the north-west of Beerhaven; it extends northward to the river of Kinmare. There are 9 plowlands and 9 gneeves in this parish. Some of it is the best land on this side of the Bay of Bantry. The sheep grow fat here, and they often die with excess of fat. There grows camomil in great plenty upon the hills here, on which the cows and sheep feed. The Lord Altham has all the lands of this parish. About 12 acres of glebe lie near the church, to the south of it, and about 2 acres, about 500 yards from the church on the south-west, is glebe. Capt. Boyd pretends to a house on the 12 acres near the church, but without any reason for as much as I can hear. The intire rectory belongs to Mr. Holmes, and is worth about £7 per an. This parish and several other plowlands are in the manor of Altham. The parish church stands on the north-west side of Beerhaven, near the mouth of the Kinmare River. The greatest part of the walls are standing. It was built of stone and clay, and is about 50 feet long, and 16 broad. The land for a mile square about the church is good, the rest of the country is very coarse, mountainy, rocky, and boggy. The Dorses lie west of this church, at about 4 miles distance. The Dorses is in the parish of Killaghaneenah. Off of the Dorses are the Cow and Calf, two rocks in the sea. There are the ruins of a house near the church, but they are not reckoned to belong to the church. There is a cabin near the church, where the Rector's house stood. There is no church-yard, but a little spot on the south side of the church. There was, as it is said, formerly a house of monks here, and from thence it was called Kilmannah—monah signifies a monk, in Irish. The 13th of March, Mochevus', als. Mochevoge's Day, is observed in this parish.

"Kilkatierin's parish lies to the east of Kilmannah, towards Bantry, and extends to Kinmare River. It is bounded on the west and south and east by the parish of Killaghaneenah, and on the north by Kinmare River. Some part of this, not far from the church, is separated from the rest of it by Killaghaneenah parish. The Lord Altham has all the lands of this parish. All the inhabitants of this parish are Papists. About 12 plowlands in this parish are very coarse land. The glebe, in three parcels, contains about 10 acres, plantation measure. There are the ruins of a chappel at Cuolagh, in this parish. The intire rectory belongs to Mr. Holmes; 'tis worth about £7 per an.

"The last of January, in this parish they observe St. Katierin's Day. It is said he was an Irish saint in St. Patrick's time. In most of these parishes they observe the day of the saint of the parish. The families of O'Sullevans, O'Donegans, &c., have their peculiar saints. The church of Kilkatierin lies to the north-east of Dunbury, als. Beerhaven, towards the River of Kinmare. Part of Kilkatierin lies at some distance from the rest of the parish." [Downes' Tour.]

1780. November 4. WILLIAM HODNETT, A.B., was admitted V. Kilmaccabee and Kilfaughnabeg, and R. V. Myross. [F.F.]

The family of Hodnet were, in ancient times, a powerful sept in Cork county. They had large possessions in Timoleague, Courtmacsherry, and Cove; one of them built Courtmacsherry, and took the name of MacSherry instead of Hodnet, and another built Belvelly Castle, in Cove. In the reign of Henry III. a battle was fought near Timoleague, between this sept and Lord Barrymore, wherein Lord Philip Hodnet was slain, and all his possessions lost. A younger member of the Hodnet family made terms with the Barrymore, and received a lease of part of the family property in Timolegue, which lease expired in 1775, having been enjoyed by William Hodnet, whose son, William, subject of this notice, entered T.C.D. on 17th June, 1731, and was elected Scholar in 1735.

He was ordained Deacon on 8th October, 1738; and on 21st Oct., 1742, was licensed to the curacy of Timoleague and Lislee; and on 21st May, 1752, to that of Inuishannon, Cork. He married, firstly, Mary, dau. of —— Honner, of Ballymodan [M. B., Cork, 10th October, 1740], ancestor of Major Honner, of Glencoole, Bandon; and, 2ndly, Martha, dau. of Richard Owgan, of Cork, by Sarah Bousfield. By his second wife Hodnet had three sons—Thomas, died Sp.; Lieut. John (married Mrs. Bernard, widow, and had issue one daughter, Martha Hodnett, now of Bristol); and William, Vicar of Kilcaskin, q. v. He had also one dau., Anne, wife of Rev. James Hingston, Vicar-General of Cloyne. His will was dated 15th Feb., 1781, and was proved 5th January, 1782, in Cork. He died in 1782, and was buried at Baltimore, in the parish of Tullagh. [F.P.]

Kilmaccabee, &c.

Edward Sandiford was a younger brother of Rev. Thomas Sandiford, R. Whitechurch, Waterford; and of Rev. Henry Sandiford, Precentor of Cork. These three clergymen were sons of James Sandiford, whose father, Thomas, was an Alderman of Drogheda; and the father of Alderman Thomas was John Sandiford, Mayor of Drogheda, who was attainted in the parliament of King James in 1689. Vide the list, article 2, in Archbishop King's "State of the Protestants."

He married Alicia, dau. of Rev. S. Baggs, his predecessor in this living, and by her had issue a son, Henry (a minor in 1793), and two daughters, Elisabeth (baptized in St. Peter's, Cork, in 1782), and Mary-Araminta. He desired, in his will, dated and proved in 1793, to be buried at St. Peter's, if he died in Cork, and he mentions his brothers, Thomas and Henry Sandiford.

The family of M'Gillycuddy was a branch of the once powerful sept of the O'Sullivans, who had great possessions in Tipperary, especially at Clonmel, but lost all at the time of the English invasion, in the days of DONALD MORE, who removed to Carberry. He had ten sons, men of note and valour, of whom eight were slain in an ambuscade at Lislifionaguil, near Cork; whereupon the O'Sullivan-More and the Sullivane-Bear retreated to Desmond, long before possessed by the O'Donoghues and Moriartys, who, without contention, ceded to the newcomers most of Desmond from Cnoc-a-ui, near Bantry, to the River Laune.

The barony of Iveragh (except M'Carthy-More's estates), the entire of Dunkerion, and four plowlands in Glan-y-rought, were the allotment of O'Sullivan-More; and the most of Glan-y-rought, with Bear and Bantry, went to O'Sullivan-Bear. Many of their kin accompanied these chiefs; among others, the Sughrues. Several families had their living out of O'Sullivan-More's house, and paid him chiefry therefor. This O'Sullivan-More, gave one third of his estate to his grandson, thence called M'GILLYCUDDY, i.e. the child of my affections and of my goods; and his eldest son, and eventually most of his descendants, adopted that name, viz., M'Gillycuddy, in the stead of their ancient name of O'Sullivan.

In 1595, June 8. A patent was granted to Edmond Barret "of the lands of Charonloughhurte, Bodenismeane, alias Farrennegate, and Tenescarte, containing two cartrons of mountain and infertile land; a cartron of land in Charowbeg, Ardemore, Ardenegreaghe, Banecloone, Shaneragh, Ardlaghes, Leseknogher, in the barony of Charowloughurte; Kilsallaghe, Kieapirashe, Megawlin, Charowmeereyaghter, a castle in Bragheraghe, Chaherdonnellyearaghe, Oglaneloghe, Monefelaghe, Derileceghwaghe, in the county of Kerry, parcel of the lands of DONALD GERALDAGHE M'GILLECUDD, late of Bodensmeane [or Bordeneene, or M'Gillycuddy's border], killed in rebellion, and attainted by Act of Parliament." [Morrin's Pat. Rolls, vol. ii., page 312.]

Whether Donald, whose lands were thus alienated in 1595, was father or cousin of Donat, whose son, John, was Vicar of Kilcatern, in 1591, it is now impossible to ascertain, owing to the very mutilated state of the family pedigree now in the possession of the M'Gillycuddy of the Reeks, of whose descent I will now give a brief statement, taken from private papers, and from the manuscripts of the late Arthur B. Rowan, Archdeacon of Ardfert.

CORNELIUS M'GILLYCUDDY, born circa 1580 (died by shipwreck in 1630 [U.O.]), married, firstly, Joan, dau. of John Crosbie, Bishop of Ardfert, by Grace O'Lawlor. Cornelius married, secondly, Sheelah, dau. of David (or Daniel) Oge M'Carthy, of Dunguile, by whom he had issue a son, Neill, and a daughter. Cornelius had issue by his first marriage with Miss Crosbie five children, of whom the eldest was DONOGH, or DONATUS, born in 1623, at Ardfert, county Kerry, who entered T.C.D. on 17th November, 1640. This Donogh was of Carewbeg, and was remarkable for his loyal attachment to the Stuart cause. He defended his castle for a long time against the forces of Cromwell; and finally set it on fire rather than surrender it, and escaped to the mountain strongholds. In 1648 he raised a regiment at his own expense in support of CHARLES, and obtained the Marquis of Ormond's commission of Lieutenant-Colonel in 1650. He was, however, compelled to fly to the continent, where he remained for some years. On the restoration of CHARLES II. he returned; and his estates, which were forfeited, were, in part, restored to him. He was now advanced to the rank of Colonel; and in 1669 was named Commander-in-Chief of the Irish regiments collected in the Isle of Wight to serve the Emperor of Germany. He was Sheriff of Kerry in 1686, and died circa 1695, in which year he made his will. He married a Spanish lady of rank, and had issue—1. Cornelius, who married Elizabeth, dau. of the M'Carthy-More, and died in 1712, Sp. 2. DANIEL, of whom hereafter. 3. Denis, died unm. 4. Inez, wife of —— Ankettel.

DANIEL (the second son, as above stated, of Donogh M'Gillycuddy) was a Captain in Colonel Monck's regiment; and married Lucretia, dau. of Derryck Von Dachelaer, of Wennigen, or Wageningen, in Guilderland, sister to Margaret Von Dachelaer, wife of his cousin-german, Major Denis M'Gillycuddy. Captain Daniel M'Gillycuddy died vita patris in 1705, leaving issue, besides a younger son, Cornelius (who resided in Holland, with his mother, and settled in Lisbon afterwards, under the name of Roderigo Von Dachelaer), an elder son,

DENIS. He married Anne, dau. of John Blennerhasset, of Killorglin (who was commonly called Black Jack), by Elizabeth, dau. of Rev. Benjamin Cross, Precentor of Cloyne, vide supra, page 308. He had four sons, Denis, who died Sp.; CORNELIUS, John, and Philip, and three daughters, Avis, Elisabeth, and Mary. All his sons died Sp. except the second, CORNELIUS, who was born in 1720, and married on 16th July, 1745, Catherine, dau. of Richard Chute, esq., of Tulligaron, by Charity, dau. of Arthur Herbert (of Currens) and Mary Bastable. Cornelius had issue (besides six daughters—1. Charity, wife of Edward Collis; 2. Mary Anne, died unm.; 3. Margaret, wife of Rev. James Day; 4. Ruth, died Sp.; 5. Avis, died Sp.; 6. Henry Denny, brother of SIR EDWARD DENNY. 5. Eusebius, born in May, 1754, who had issue five sons, Richard, Daniel, Francis, Eusebius, and James; and also four daughters, Ellen, Catherine, Charity, and Margaret. 6. Cornelius, born in July, 1762.

Francis (the third son, as above stated, of Cornelius and Catherine M'Gillycuddy) was born on 17th August, 1751, and died on 6th April, 1820. He married, in 1788, Catherine, relict of Darby M'Gill, esq., and daughter of Denis Mahony, esq., of Dromore, county Kerry. He had issue five sons—1. RICHARD, of whom hereafter. 2. Denis, born 8th January, 1791, who died young. 3. Daniel, born 28th Oct. 1794, who died young. 4. Francis, born 21st May, 1796, who died unm. 5. RICHARD (the eldest son of Francis and Catherine M'Gillycuddy) is the present M'GILLYCUDDY OF THE REEKS. He was born on 1st January, 1790. He married, firstly, on 9th Nov., 1814, Margaret, only daughter of James Bennett, M.D., of Cork, by Dorothea St. Leger. He had issue by her, who died on 2nd February, 1849, four sons—1. 1836. June 30. THOMAS STEWART TOWNSEND, A.M., was admitted to the R. Kilnagross, certified under £400 per an. [D.R.]

Thomas Stewart Townsend (eldest son of Thomas Townsend, LL.D., of Thornbury, by Susan Williams, his wife), was born near Cork in the early part of the present century. He was educated at Hyde-Abbey School, Winchester, then remarkable for the many good scholars it produced, and at that time conducted by Charles Richards and his brother. Under their instruction Townsend became an excellent classical scholar, but his tastes principally inclined to English composition, and he was a constant contributor to the press, writing chiefly on subjects connected with the Church and education. He entered Trinity College, Dublin, as a pupil of Dr. Kyle, afterwards Bishop of Cork, and graduated D.D. in that University.

He was ordained Priest on 15th March, 1829, at Cloyne, and was for a short time Curate of Castletownsend. In 1830 he was presented by the Marquess of Lansdowne to the Rectory of Timoge, Leighlin, which he held until 1836. He was, from 1836 to 1841, R. Kilnagross; from 1841 to 1849, R. Burnchurch, Ossory; and from 1849 to 1850, Dean of Lismore. In August, 1850, he was appointed to the Deanery of Waterford; but before entering on his duties there was made Bishop of Meath, and was consecrated in November, 1850. He did not, however, long enjoy his promotion, for he died at Malaga on 1st September, 1852, deeply and most deservedly regretted.

Bishop Townsend combined with very liberal views and opinions a most devoted love for the Church of which he was a member. He was kind, gentle, affectionate, and just; and although resolute and uncompromising in what he conceived his duty, was always ready to make favourable allowance for the opinions and even prejudices of others. He was one of the earliest and stanchest advocates of the present admirable system of Irish education, on which subject he wrote much, supporting it with an enlightened and disinterested devotion. He was author of—

1. "Facts and Circumstances respecting the Irish Church." 1834.
2. "A Tract upon Education." 1840.
3. "A Letter to the Lord Bishop of Ossory." 1846.
4. "A Letter to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland on National Education." (Anonymous). 8vo. Dublin, 1847.
5. "A Supplementary Letter to the same; being a Reply to Dr. Miller's Animadversions." (Anon.) 8vo. 1847.

6. "The Policy of a Separate Grant for Education in Ireland Considered." 8vo. Dublin, 1849.

Harperstown, county Wexford, by Lady Anne, dau. of the first Earl of Courtown.

He married, in 1797, LADY MARY HOWARD, dau. of the first VISCOUNT WICKLOW. She died in 1798.

Mr. Hore was of a very charitable disposition. He gave, during his lifetime, in 1822, £300 of five per cent. stock, and in 1834 £200 Government £3 10*s*. per cent. stock, to the Bishop of Cork and Curate of Rosscarbery, for ever, in trust, to pay over the interest to poor families in Ross parish. He left, by will, to the poor of Rosscarbery, £300; to the school of Ross, £50; to the free hospital for the destitute in Gravell-street, Hatton Garden, London, £200; to Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, £200; and to British and Foreign Bible Society, £100. He also left to Incorporated National School Society, £100; and to Ham Common Chapel, for the poor of the parish and the schools thereof, £200. He coupled this last bequest with a proviso, that no memorial of it should be affixed to any part of that church, but that a white tablet should be placed over his seat, inscribed as follows:—"Sacred to the memory of Rev. Thomas Hore, resident in this parish since 1808. No further seek his merits to disclose, nor draw his frailties from their dread abode. There they alike in trembling hope repose, the bosom of his father and his God."

He left his books to Rosscarbery Library, and the duplicate volumes to Taghmon, county Wexford. He died on 8th Aug., 1841, in London.

On 28th June, 1842, the presentation to this benefice was suspended by the Privy Council; but on 19th November the suspension was removed, it having been shown that the office of Vicar Choral has cure of souls attached.

Having graduated in T.C.D., he was ordained Deacon on 11th July, 1841, at Durham, by the Bishop of Chester, and Priest at Chester on 20th February, 1842. He was nominated in 1841 to the curacy of Frodsham, Chester, and in eight months was removed to Birkenhead, where he acted as Curate for only seven weeks, and then returned to Ireland as Curate of Thomastown, county of Kildare. In August, 1841, he was appointed to the Vicarage Choral of Ross, but his institution was delayed by the intervention of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, on the ground of there being no cure of souls attached to that office. After fifteen months' litigation the order of the Privy Council for suspension of the benefice was reversed on appeal, and the appointment was ratified.

Mr. Hamilton married, on 7th September, 1843, Sarah, dau. of Walter Paye, esq., of Kilworth, county Cork, by whom he has issue three sons and two daughters.

"Tullogh church is opposite to Donegall Island, on the south-east side of the river. The church is ruinous. It is about half a mile distant from Baltemore. Some glebe round the church.

"1699. On Monday, the 14th of August, I went from Skibbareen to the Island of Shirkin. We passed by several islands on our way. We landed on Innishbegclary, belonging to the Bishop of Ross. The land is pretty good, and good improvements. Shirkin belongs to the parish of Tullogh, and lies over against it; 'tis a pretty large island. The castle is on the east side of the island; it is strong, having 2 or 3 platforms towards the sea, whereon are about 8 guns planted. There is another platform for guns near the south point of the island, where the entrance is narrowest, viz., about half a mile over. The channel lyes near the island. There are barracks in the castle, and also near the other platforms, sufficient for a company of foot.

"1700. Tullagh lies to the south of Creagh parish. Baltemore and the island of Shirkin are in this parish. Mr. Trix preaches, for the most part, twice a fortnight, either at Baltemore or Shirkin, in a house. Colonel Beecher, Colonel Townsend, have most part of this parish; some part of it was forfeited in the late troubles. 27 plowlands in this parish. About 10 acres of glebe joining to the church-yard, on the south of the church-yard, good land. The vicaridge of Tullagh, being half the tythes, is worth about £12 per an. Colonel Beecher, Mr. Roberts, and Capt. Powell live in this parish.

"On Sunday, the 2nd of June, I preacht at Skibbareen, and confirm'd about 100 persons of the parishes of Abbystrewry, Creagh, Tullogh, Aghadown, Kilcoe, and Castlehaven. I disposed of about 14 Common Prayer-Books and 4 small Prayer-Books, at Skibbareen." [Downes' Tour.]
